"Jack Frost" is a fink. . .he is afraid to come out like a man and nip "your toes and bite your nose."

In Texas, he sends a Norther. He chases out warm weather with a poor substitute for winter: a chilling breeze that only penetrates, never quite freezes.

Any self-respecting weather changer like Mr. Frost would come banging in with real ice and snow.

But our Texas winter intimidates the mercury just enough to approach freezing. The weather vane, thrust this way and that by these sharp gusts, is rigid.

This nippy weather is more seasonable, isn't it? Coat November with balm and crust over when December is cold.

Central Texans don't really want ice and snow, even if Christmas approaches. But we're not sure whether it's any worse to turn blue when a cold wind blows than it is when a snow falls.

Streets are more dangerous. There might even be some snow for snowballs.

But the wind that blows cuts through a parka or a topcoat and splinters the spleen and numbs the digits, five to a hand frozen.

Cameron Police Chief Felipe Martinez attended a 24-hour seminar on firearms and defensive tactics at Central Texas College for Central Texas law enforcement officers.

The seminar, held Dec. 7 - 9, was sponsored by the Law Enforcement Division of the college and the Central Texas Council of Governments. Ed Jones, resident agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Area Roundup

School Bond Defeated

CALDWELL

Voters in Caldwell defeated a $1,300,000 school bond issue by a three-to-one margin Saturday. The bond proposal would have provided financing for a new high school building and junior high in a two phase program. High school students have been attending classes in the gymnasium basement since the original high school was abandoned 3 years ago. The vote Saturday was 730 against and 246 for the proposal.

City Bond Issue Probable

ROCKDALE

Rockdale faces a bond issue for expansion of the city sewage treatment plant that was described as "undersized and poorly designed" in a study report by Hunter Engineers, municipal engineering firm. The Rockdale sewer plant has been under fire from the Texas Water Quality Board because of wastewater being discharged by the plant. The proposed modernization was estimated at $164,160, 33 percent of which would be available through a grant from the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

New Firehouse Dedicated

HEARNE

Dedication ceremonies Sunday formally opened the newly completed Hearne Fire Dept. building. The modern building with glass and antique brick front, was open for tours during the afternoon.

Resthome Nears Completion

ROSEBUD

Finishing work is underway at the 104 bed Heritage House rest home under construction in Rosebud. The modern brick rest home will have 12 guest rooms in addition to the patients rooms. No date has been set for the official opening.

Test Figures Filed On Two C-N Wells

Potential test figures for two recently drilled wells in the Cherokee Navarro Field southeast of Milano were filed late last week, and plans for a new wildcat to be drilled in east Milam County are reported underway.

Byron Rose, Houston operator who opened the Cherokee Navarro Field a year ago with his No. 1 Ray Woods discovery, has filed potential on his No. 4 and No. 6 Ray Woods.

The No. 4 Ray Woods pumped 35 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day on perforations at 3,028 - 040 feet.

The No. 6, perforated at 3,098 - 120 feet, pumped 33 barrels of 39 gravity oil with a trace of water on test.

Both wells produced from the Navarro and had been treated by hydraulic fracture.

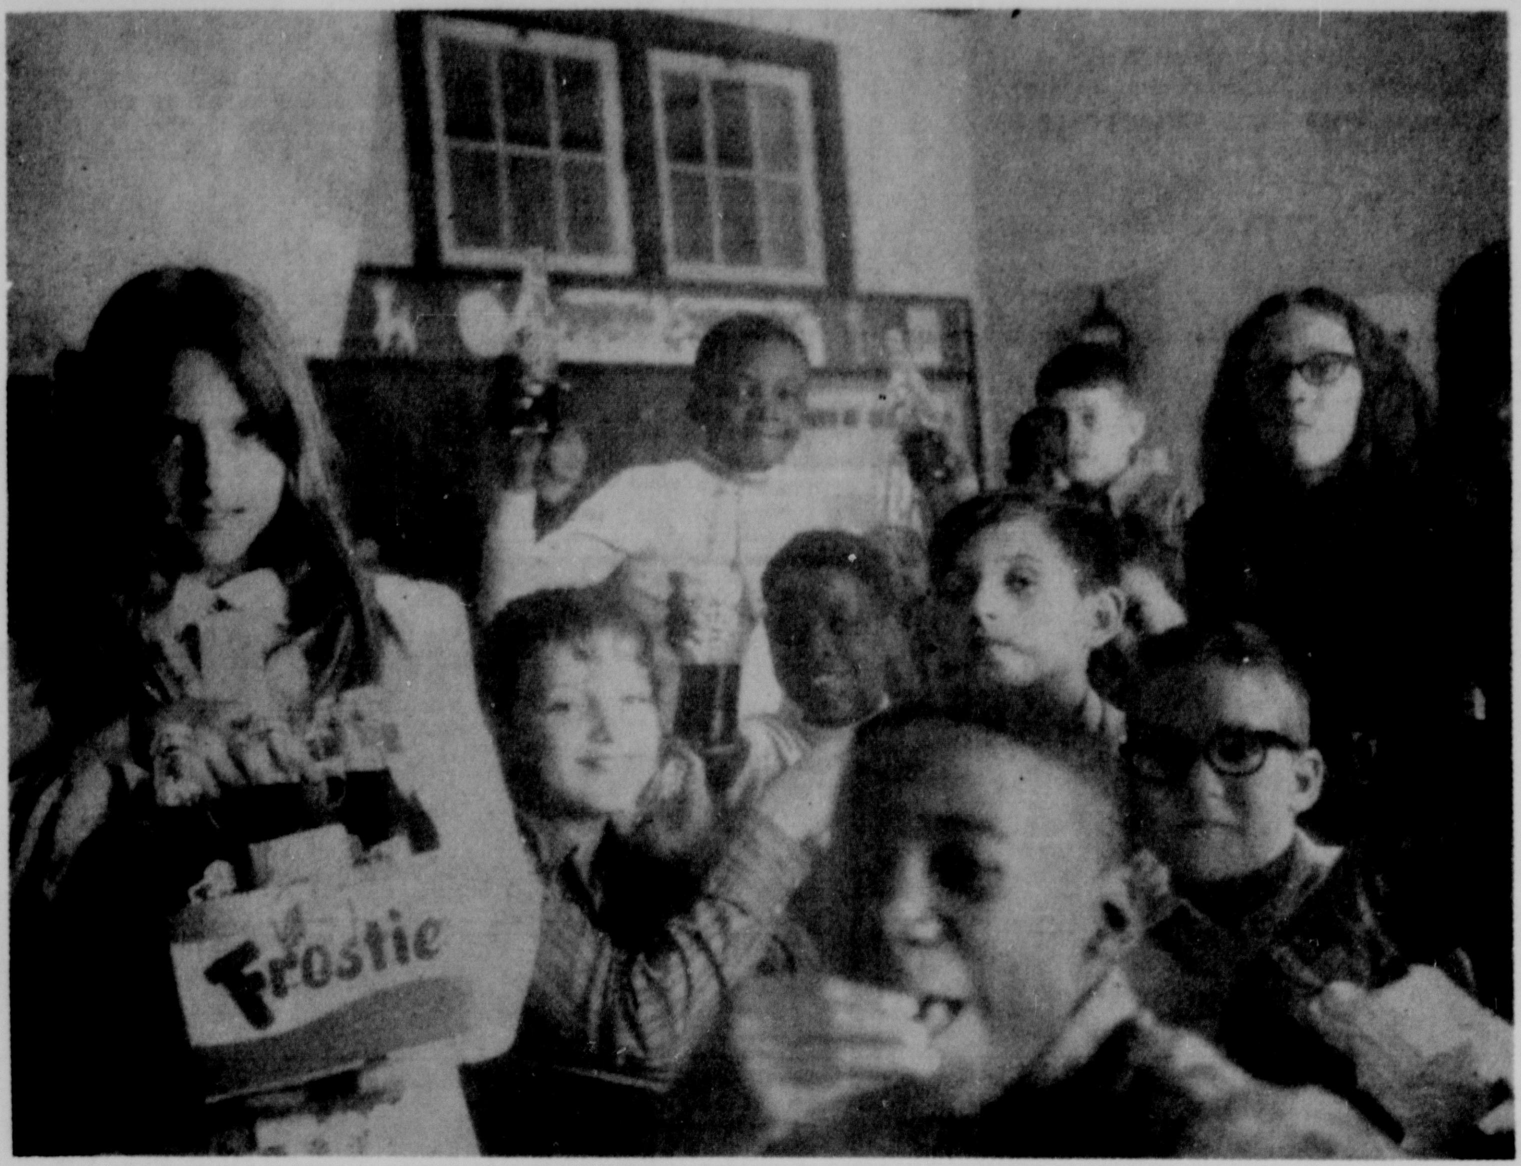
Plans for the new wildcat to be drilled in east Milam County are still in the preliminary stages, according to some sources in the oil patch.

Feboco Oil Corporation reportedly has plans underway for a wildcat in the area. Location will be on a Peter C. Gibson tract of about 400 acres in W. E. Harris Grant, and approximately two miles west of Wildcat Bridge on the Brazos River.

Reportedly the wildcat will be a 5,200 foot test, with the Edwards Lime as its objective.

Feboco Oil Corporation began a leasing campaign in the east Milam area early last spring and summer and has assembled a lease block of several thousand acres. There has been little or no drilling activity in that section of the county for several years and no production reported.

Trustees Plan Building Study



HAVING A 'ROOT BEER BUST' - This fifth grade class at Ada Henderson School is having a good time enjoying the contest winnings of Patricia Matula, left. Patricia won two cases of rootbeer for an essay on her favorite teacher, and was proud hostess for the impromptu root beer and popcorn party. Her favorite teacher? Miss Sandra Haire.

Will Project Local Schools' Future Needs

Cameron school trustees Thursday night were asked to start a long-range study of the schools' future building needs after hearing reports of near-completion on the new homemaking cottage.

The request was made by Board President Hilliard Thomas, who also told trustees that several proposals will be offered to the State Legislature next year that could have vital affects on school districts.

Discussion continued on new regulations for free or reduced price lunches. Supt. D. R. Dodson, who outlined the new federal regulations at the November board meeting, told trustees the biggest problem would be physical, since lunchrooms are now operating at capacity.

Other school facilities operating under less than ideal conditions were discussed, including high school math classes being held at Ada Henderson School, and boys and girls physical education classes crowded into one gym. Lack of a central assembly hall was also noted.

Thomas will name a committee at the January meeting to study school needs and begin long-range planning.

One legislative proposal receiving strong lobby support would change the proportion of State-district school funds from its present 80-20 to 75-25, Thomas told trustees.

He said it would mean an immediate increase in local school taxes if the proposal became law.

The board voted to take necessary actions to bring the district into compliance with the lunch program regulations. This includes sending notification of the program's availability and application forms to all parents.

Supt. Dodson reported progress on the new homemaking building and invited board members to tour the facility after the meeting. Final floor work and interior finishing is in progress, and equipment is ready to be moved in.

In routine business, the board set April 3, 1971 for the annual trustee election, and moved the January meeting to Tuesday, Jan. 12 instead of Thursday.

Pants Suits 'In' At School

Pants suits were approved as acceptable attire for Cameron school teachers and students at Thursday's school board meeting.

Trustees agreed to the proposition after Supt. D. R. Dodson reported the request from a faculty member.

Approval was unanimous - - with opinions to the effect that "it beats short skirts."

But they must be pants suits," Supt. Dodson told The Herald, "not jeans and a tee shirt." Slacks and jeans were approved for girls wear in freezing weather, at the beginning of school.

Now the girls can wear pants suits without consulting the morning's temperature.

Give Blood: A Gift Of Christmas Love

Are you tired of hearing "Give to The. . ."? Are you tired of trying to decide what gifts to give, and of seeing your bank balance shrinking?

There is one gift you can give Tuesday that is unique - - no cost, no wrapping, no mailing - - but it could be the gift of life.

The gift is a pint of your blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank.

The bloodmobile will be in Cameron Tuesday, Dec. 15 from 12 noon until 6 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Quota is 71 units, but officials hope the quota is topped in view of the upcoming Christmas and New Year holidays and the attendant accidents.

A replacement list will be available for donors who wish to help replace blood used by individual patients.

In addition to the seasonal increase in use by hospitals, there are patients whose lives from month to month, or year to year, depend on blood transfusions. At least one local man is in this category, Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman said.

Any healthy person between the ages of 18 and 66 may be a blood donor. Parent's permission is required for donors under 21.

Regular donors already know the feeling of satisfaction that comes from giving "something of themselves" and Tuesday will be a good day for new donors to discover it.

This gift is one for which you won't receive a "thank you" note in the mail, and the recepient won't even know who gave it, but after all, isn't this the best kind at Christmas?

Mobile Homes...

Solving The Housing Shortage

Trailer homes, once a rare sight in smaller communities, have become more popular as high building costs and industrial growth combine to create a housing shortage. Cameron now has 24 families living in trailer homes within the city limits, more than triple the mobile house count of four years ago.

Trailer home occupants list easy care, low taxes and mobility as plus factors. Biggest problem seems to be finding attractive and convenient trailer parks.

MOBILE HOMES form a U-shape on a lot adjoining the Cameron City Park. Once a rare sight in smaller communities, Cameron now has 24 families housed in trailors in parks and on individual lots within the city limits.

Major cities are providing parking spaces with playground and swimming pool facilities, landscaped court yards and 'in town' locations. Parking space rents vary from $20 to $70 per month.

In smaller communities, where the trailers are just becoming a factor, most trailer home owners are having to settle for lots bordering the town. A majority of the mobile homes in Cameron are on individually owned lots and in the three established parks, Elliots, Bailey's and one adjoining City Park.

Newest additions to the trailer home community in Cameron are the Alvin Fails. Fail, a serviceman, was re-assigned from Mississippi to Vietnam. Moving his family to their hometown in Cameron was made easier by their mobile home quarters he said. The house was moved by truck and in a short time was secured on cement foundation posts, utilities hooked up and the family settled with no major unpacking.

The Fails are located on a lot beside City Park. Like their neighbors, the Glenn Lusters, they enjoy the park play equipment for children and the convenience to downtown.

Life inside the mobile homes is not as confining as it might appear. The kitchens are complete with all modern conveniences, there is space for laundry equipment and the livingrooms are carpeted, well lighted and furnished in the newest furniture styles.

Most of the mobile homes in Cameron are two bedroom, however some have three bedrooms and two baths. Most are equipped with central cooling and heating.

Too Few On This Planet....

Alcoa Foundation President Arthur Doty quoted "the criteria of emotional maturity" during his brief dedicatory address for St. Edward Hospital.

It was written by Dr. William C. Menninger, of the Menninger Clinic. It is particularly apropos of this day of stress for people of all ages, of all persuasions and all stations.

QUOTE:. . . . .

The Critieria of Emotional Maturity

HAVING the ability to deal constructively with reality

HAVING the capacity to adapt to change

HAVING a relative freedom from symptoms that are produced by tensions and anxieties

HAVING the capacity to find more satisfaction in giving than receiving

HAVING the capacity to relate to other people in a consistent manner with mutual satisfaction and helpfulness

HAVING the capacity to sublimate, to direct one's instinctive hostile energy into creative and constructive outlets

HAVING the capacity to love.

. . . . . . END OF QUOTE

People who work under pressure appreciate finding or knowing persons who have realized this maturity. They are too few on this planet.

The Clan Cameron....

Clan Cameron gave Texas Ewen Cameron, killed in the Mier Expedition of the Texas Revolution.

By his death, Ewen Cameron gave Milam County's seat its name.

A plaque bearing that name is in permanent display in the Cameron Public Library, the cast bronze emblem carried by the lend-lease destroyer H.M.S. Cameron early in World War II.

The crowned, circled crest centered by an oak leaf is a handsome addition. It was presented by the British government in formal ceremonies in 1950 through Cameron Rotary Club to the City of Cameron.

If the City of Cameron ever seeks an official emblem, the Cameron emblem would be suitable. Every government at state and national level has a flag and a "great seal" to symbolize its authority and lineage. High public office bears with it an official seal.

Some cities have official seals. An insignia such as this is a natural for Cameron.

It derives from a Texas hero. It is unique in all the United States in tracing to the original Scottish clan. It is an uncomplicated design which is readily identifiable by those just a bit familiar with its background.

If you have not seen it, visit your Cameron Public Library. It is an emblem of historic and futuristic value.

Washington, D. C.--The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

Dealings with North Viet-Nam

Would you kindly provide me with information about those nations which are currently having dealings of any sort with North Viet-Nam?

T.E.
Neenah, Wis.

Dear T.E.:

Although you do not specify the type of dealings you have in mind, it is assumed that you mean primarily foreign trade and economic and military assistance. In these catagories, the Soviet Union and Communist China together account for about two-thirds of North Viet-Nam's foreign trade and an even higher percentage of the economic and military assistance which North Viet-Nam receives.

In addition, North Viet-Nam trades with and receives at least token amounts of aid from all other Communist nations, among which East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Romania are the next-ranking donors and trading partners. (All Communist nations, including Yugoslavia, have extended formal diplomatic recognition to North Viet-Nam.)

North Viet-Nam also conducts a relatively small amount of trade with certain non-Communistic partners, principally Japan, France, and Singapore, but also, in some years, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, West Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. (Among these only France and Sweden formally recognize North Viet-Nam.)

In past years the ships of several non-Communist countries -- notably Cyprus, Malta, and Singapore, none of which recognize North Viet-Nam -- have called at North Vietnamese ports, although diplomatic efforts by the United States have significantly reduced the number of such calls and the number of nations participating in trade with North Viet-Nam.

Somalia, which recognizes North Viet-Nam, persists in this trade, and as a result we are now terminating our foreign assistance programs in Somalia. In addition, a number of vessels which fly the British flag (because they are registered in Hong Kong) but which are controlled by Chinese Communist interests call at North Vietnamese ports.

Finally, the following non-Communistic countries are considered to have extended diplomatic recognition to North Viet-Nam but have no recorded economic relations with that country: Algeria, Burma, Ceylon, Congo (Brazzaville), Guinea, India, Indonesia, Iraq, Laos, Mauritania, Senegal, South Yemen, Sudan, Syria, Tanzania, the United Arab Republic, and Yemen.

Navy To Aid Collectors

NORFOLK, VA.

Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will provide commemorative cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 14 manned flight to the moon.

To permit adequate time for handling of covers, collectors should send prestamped, self-addressed envelopes to the appropriate coordinator at least three weeks prior to the scheduled launch of Apollo 14, covers should be received prior to January 8.

In accordance with U.S. Postal regulations, only United States Postage may be used on covers submitted. It is requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches, with a filler inserted to simplify handling.

Land Usage

At present one-third of the world's land area is tilled or in pasture; one-fifth covered by snow and ice; two-fifths occupied by deserts, mountains or arid zones. An estimated reserve of 950 million acres are available for tillage. Of these acres, 125 million must be tilled every year to meet food requirements for the 70 million annual increase in population.

FFA BULL RIDING - Each year the FFA takes part in many activities, including the official FFA rodeos. Pictured is Ray Coward of the Marlow Community on a bull at the FFA rodeo in Clifton. Ray is a member of the Yoe High FFA Chapter. I can think of a lot of places I'd rather be than on the back of that bull but to Ray it's a great sport. Bull riding is a contest between the rider and the bull. Sometimes the rider wins and sometimes the bull wins. Here Ray is determined to ride that old bull and the bull is equally determined to get rid of Ray. "This is a good one," Ray says.

Livestock Census

While the "people" census is taken only once every ten years, livestock numbers are calculated annually. Perhaps it's because there aren't as many demograhpic groups to tabulate. At any rate, the nation's cattle, hog and sheep industries have managed—through business like efficiency and know-how—to keep the meat animal population high enough to feed the human population adequate amounts of beef, veal, pork and lamb. Here's what the livestock population amounts to in 1970: 112.3 million cattle and calves; 56.7 million hogs and pigs and 20.4 million sheep and lambs.

BOOKS for your CHILDREN

Meet An Author

For a third of a century, which adds up to a lot of generations of first and second graders, Little Toot has been a classic in American juvenile literature. The picture story of the impish tugboat has been translated into a half dozen foreign languages, has been made into a movie by Walt Disney, and has earned a shelf full of awards for its creator, Hardie Gramatky.

Hardie has since written and illustrated nine more books for children. Each bounces with the natural exuberance of youth, for you must consider that a man whose careers have progressed from bank teller through logger and deck hand to artist-author must be getting younger each year. His latest book is Happy's Christmas, a beguiling tale of five beagle pups that is fiction-but-not-quite. The story has its origins in an earlier Gramatky experience.

Hardie Gramatky was born in Dallas, Texas, and raised in California. After his various employments in the northwest, he settled in Connecticut. In between producing delightful books with his palette and typewriter, he has found time to work for children through various national and local associations, and to paint well enough to earn more than thirty top awards for his watercolors.

If your house shelters youngsters still fascinated by animated tugboats, circus trains, and fire engines, you might entice them to do more reading by bringing Hardie Gramatky titles home from your library. In addition to Happy's Christmas and Little Toot, Hardie is the author-illustrator of:

Bolivar. The story of a burro with the distressing habit of bungling everything. Finally Bolivar has his moment of triumph on an exciting day of the carnival in Quito, Peru.

Little Toot on the Thames. Published on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first Little Toot book, the sequel takes the mischievous tugboat to England for more hair-raising escapades.

Homer and the Circus Train. A little red caboose who loves his railroading career rescues the circus animals who befriended him.

Little Toot on the Grand Canal. A rollicking waterborne adventure in Venice, complete with gondoliers, pirates, and the theft and rescue of the great treasures of the city of canals.

Loopy. A small training plane that feels abused and neglected proves that it can dream and find dreams come happily true.

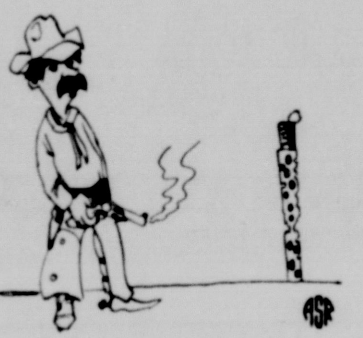
Nikos and the Sea God. A modern Greek boy is caught in a direct struggle with Poseidon, god of the sea, in a colorful tale that blends Greek mythology with a twentieth-century emergency.

Sparky. A little trolley car who usually cannot keep his mind on his work, turns out to be a hero.

Hercules. A fire engine in the days when the horsepower was applied by horses saves the city hall and earns itself a place in the museum.

Below are a few random suggestions of books that may start your youngster on a habit that can be satisfying and useful:

A Bear Before Breakfast by Eth Clifford (Ages 5-9). A hilarious look in words and pictures at some expressions of adults, with literal illustrations of buying a "white elephant," of relatives "dropping in," to say nothing of the title expression.



Jokes and How to Tell Them by Sonny Fox (Ages 8-12). Few are the boys—or girls—who can resist telling and retelling jokes. Here is a collection of jokes and riddles, sorted into types, with some pointers for the young would-be comedian.

Fiesta of Folk Songs of Spain and Latin America by Henrietta Yurchenco (Ages 8-12). Folk songs and singing games given in English, Spanish, and with a pronunciation guide to Spanish. Delightfully illustrated in full color.

Whaling Boy by Peter Freuchen and Fir Salomonsen (Ages 10-13). A novel of an orphaned son of a whaler captain. He persuades another captain to take him on as mess boy on a whaling voyage. Told with authority by the grand old polar explorer.

Cindy Lou by Sonia Fox (Ages 6-9). Whimsical story of a remarkable cow who produced chocolate milk.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

Robert R. Schiller of Cameron and Francis Dean Stiles of Thorndale are candidates for bachelor's degrees from the College of Pharmacy at the end of the University of Texas fall semester.

Meat Bonanza

U.S.D.A. findings show that beef, pork, lamb, veal, poultry, fish and eggs contribute over 40 per cent of the protein in the national diet. Beef ranked highest in consumption, followed by pork. The meat group supplied about one-third of the total iron consumed. Liver supplied 11½ per cent of the total vitamin A intake and pork provided 14 per cent of the total thiamin in the diet.

8,000 Choices

Today's shopping consumer has approximately 8,000 different items to choose from in a big supermarket. About 2,000 new items are added to the shelves every year.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Culpepper's Means Fine Home Furnishings.

Culpepper's in Cameron means home furnishings from floor to ceiling, from kitchen to livingroom, from New Year to Christmas.

Manager Frank Richter, Jr., can advise on what is suitable for a Christmas gift for the home. His 25 years of experience, 12 of them manager of the 10,000 square-foot furniture and appliance center, assures the knowledgability to make your dollar get value received.

Owner of Culpepper Furniture and Milam Music Co., managed by Dwight Moody, is Wallace Culpepper, of Cameron. The store opened in the downtown Cameron location in 1944.

Assisting in sales at Culpepper Furniture is Miss Lena Mae Riddle, who has 14 years of sales experience in this Cameron business.

Assisting Moody in Milam Music Co., which retails records of all kinds are Dwight Moody and Katherine Junek.

Backing Culpepper Furniture's name is a list of, indeed departments full of name-brand merchandise assuring customers value.

Names like General Electric Dearborn, Zenith, Frigidaire, Hoover Eveready, O'Cedar, Pyrex, Morning Glory, Gates, Samsonite, Tappan, Blue Lustre are household words and are everyday stock merchandise at the huge furniture center.

Christmas shoppers right now can save 10 to 20 percent on items like lamps, appliances, dishware, ashtrays and numerous gifts before Christmas.

Major purchases like refrigerators, luggage, appliances, vacuum cleaners, heaters, rugs, tables, television and stereo sets are well stocked for the Yuletime shopper.

Smaller items in price and size, equipment for the outdoorsman, mailboxes, hardware items of many kinds, cardtables, portable record players await you.

And mattresses, livingroom, diningroom and kitchen equipment and suites are well displayed for shopper view.

And when you buy, delivery is assured in a 50-mile radius of Cameron, anywnere in the Milam trade area, no additional charge, of course.

It is always a pleasure to shop where you know the merchandise is good and the personnel are qualified to demonstrate it, to describe its construction and serviceability and the terms on which you may purchase it.

Such an experience awaits the Christmas shopper this season at Culpepper's, easily one of the largest retail firms in the Milam area, and one of the most experienced in selling and servicing furniture and hardware good for years to come.

Schigut's Now Offers Singer Dept.

Schigut's in Cameron has a reputation for good clothing, but the department store has added a new department, the only one in the Milam area.

It is a sales and service department for the famous Singer Sewing Machines, one of the best known household lines in the world.

John Schigut, manager and store owner, is taking as much an interest in the new department as Mrs. Lottie Witt, Mrs. Louise Butler and Mrs. Frieda Smith whose sales experience in clothing and piece goods help in advising what equipment is best for making one's own clothes, curtains and whatever a Singer Sewing machine can do, which is a lot.

Schigut's features a line of Singer machines in a department near the front of the downtown Cameron store. And any model not demonstrated or on display is quickly available through Singer sources at Schigut's.

Schigut's also assures service by Marshall Flores who lives in Cameron and has a number of years experience in maintenance and repair of sewing equipment.

The name Singer is not new to Cameron. It has 119 years since Singer started manufacturing sewing machines, the first models foot-powered instruments only a remote cousin to the ultra-modern equipment now sold at Schigut's.

"Touch and Sew" is a familiar word for the new Model 750 Singer, "Golden Touch & Sew". Its simplicity, versatility and ease of operation is tops and typical of the whole range of Singer sewing equipment.

Other models are in the Touch and Sew line, including Model 756 Special Zig-Zag, the Zig-Zag and the Deluxe Staight Stitch Touch & Sew.

These machines do it all, when it comes to sewing.

But, of course, the Golden Touch & Sew is the only model which has all the features of the 1970 line, including:

--Both built - in and interchangeable Fashion Discs, which produce almost unlimited variety of practical and decorative stitch-of practical and decorative stitches.

--Flexi-Stitch Discs that produce stretchable stitches for knits and stretch fabrics plus intricate stitch designs, including hemstitching, feather stitching.

--One-way needle clamp that makes it impossible to insert the needle backwards.

--Two kinds of temporary stitching for speed basting or chainstitching for growth tucks and removeable trims.

--Two-speed motor with a fast speed range for seams and slower range for precision control.

These are features, part or all, of the famous Singer Sewing Machine line. And Schigut's in Cameron is your Singer dealer for sales and service.

Call John Schigut, 697-3343, for more information. Better, yet, visit Schigut's.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors New Bride

Mrs. Timothy Zierke, the former Linda Malovets of Buckholts and Temple, was honored with amiscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Patricia Horne, Tuesday night, December 8th.

Hostesses were Mrs. Pat Horne and Miss Saundra Robbins.

Guest of honor was Mrs. Ida Herrmann, grandmother of the bride. The couple was married at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Hermann on Saturday, November 28.

Mrs. Horace York registered the guests and Mrs. Cynthia Geers served the punch.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace tablecloth. The cake was white with red and green decorations carrying out the motif of Christmas. The cake was inscirbed with "Congratulations to Time and Linda". Lime sherbet punch was served by Mrs. Cynthia Geers.

The couple is living at 1719 South 19th Street in Temple. The bride is employed at Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple and the groom is serving in the United States Army at Fort Hood.

'Ruby Red' Grapefruit Adds Zest

The Texas Department of Agriculture and TexaSweet from the Texas Valley Citrus Committee have joined forces again to promote fresh fruits and vegetables, with special emphasis on Texas Ruby Red Grapefruit - fresh from the Valley.

Texas grapefruit is good the year round and most abundant during the months of October through June.

Serve grapefruit hot or cold, in halves or slices. The tart flavor of grapefruit adds zest and enhances meats, vegetables, salads, beverages and desserts. The Texas ruby red grapefruit is excellent by itself or may be dressed up by sugar, honey or other spices, and by using salad dressings.

Grapefruit is an excellent source of Vitamin C and is necessary for the daily diet requirements. Grapefruit halves contain only 50 calories and are good for weight watchers.

Texas is most famous for the Ruby red which was developed in 1929 in McAllen. Ruby Reds may be distinguished by their crimson blush and red meat flesh and they are "sweeter by nature" due to their high sugar content in comparison to acid content.

Two points to keep in mind when selecting citrus fruits are heaviness in relation to size and thinness of skins. Russet skins are not an indication of inferior quality. Look for citrus fruits, that are firm, and smooth skinned. Thin skin indicates juiciness.

There are many wonderful ways of fixing Ruby Red grapefruit - try for your self and taste the difference.

Teen Talk Corner

Don't Be Brow Beaten

By Marian Holden

The general rule for eyebrow makeup (or shaping) is to start directly above the inner corner of the eye (unless using corrective measurers). Looking straight ahead, the highest point of the eyebrow arch should be just above the outside edge of the iris. To end the brow draw an imaginary line from your nostril through the outside corner of your eye. The brow should never be taken lower at the end than the level at which they were started. Soft, short, feather, like strokes with your eyebrow pencil will create a natural look. By using your color plus another of a complimenting shade you will create the natural look. After applying the pencils take a small mascara brush and lightly brush in an outward direction to blend and soften the effect.

If you are fortunate to have heavy, dark brows, just tweeze them into shape using the above guideline. Then tweeze excess hair below the brow and between the eyes, but never above the brow. Before you start to tweeze sponge the eyebrow area with a little alcohol on a cotton pad, this will help to avoid infection. You can painlessly tweeze out excess hair if you will hold the skin below the brow tight with your thumb and forefinger, pull out the tiny hairs one at a time and pull in the direction in which the hair grows. Do this also in the area between the eyes. When finished tweezing, sponge the area again with alcohol.

A well-defined arch helps add length to the face; while very little arch should be used where extra face width is desired.

Christmas Party For A-S League

Traditional Christmas decor and candlelight was the setting for the Arts and Service League Christmas dinner party Thursday night. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kestenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luecke.

A buffet Christmas dinner was served from the dining room table which was centered with an arrangement of pine branches, red balls and red candles.

The 45 dinner guests were seated at tables covered with gold clothes and centered with massed candles in varied heights.

The Christmas party was the December meeting for the Arts and Service League.

Output per man-hour on the farm increased 83% between 1959 and 1969. Farmers now produce over 20% more food and fiber on 6% fewer acres.

'Angry Man' Review For Study Club

"An Angry Man Talks Up to Youth" by K. Ross Toole was the book reviewed by Mrs. Robert Clark at a recent meeting of the Pleasure and Profit Club.

The Club met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Looney with Mrs. H. M. Yager as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clark's review opened with Dr. Ross' emphatic statement that he "is tired of the tyranny of spoiled brats" and it is "time to call a halt."

"We owe the 'younger generation' what all 'older generations' have owed younger generations - love, protection to a point, and respect when they deserve it. We do not owe them our souls, our privacy, our whole lives - and, above all, we do not owe them immunity from our mistakes, or their own," Mrs. Clark quoted.

She said Dr. Ross thinks that most of the younger generation is fine and bemoans the fact that the minority threatens to tyrannize the majority.

"I assert that we are in trouble with this younger generation not because we have failed to keep that generation in its place and failed to put it back there when it got out. We have the power; we do not have the will. We have the right; we have not exercised it."

"It is our country, too. We have fought for it, bled for it, dreamed for it and we love it. It is time to reclaim it," Mrs. Clark quoted.

Following the program Mrs. Walter Lester presided at a business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. A. Bowling.

Refreshments of pecan pie with whipped cream topping and coffee were served to 16 members and one new member, Mrs. Bobby Carter.

WINTER FOOD IDEAS

Washington Russets In Spanish Omelet

While the fresh harvest of Washington Russet potatoes is in abundant supply, treat your family to this nourishing and inexpensive Spanish Potato Omelet. It's ideal for brunch or a late supper accompanied by fried country sausage or thick rashers of bacon and broiled tomatoes. Or, serve the omelet cold as they do in Spain at their tapas or "appetizer hours" before the late evening meal. Washington Russets are an all purpose potato grown in extremely fertile plains of the Columbia River Basin.

Spanish Potato Omelet
(Tortilla de Patata)

2 pounds Washington Russet potatoes
¼ cup olive oil
1½ teaspoons salt
1 medium onion, chopped
5 eggs

Peel potatoes and slice thin. Heat oil in 10½-inch skillet. Add potatoes. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon salt. Cook over moderate heat 10 minutes, turning occasionally. Add onion. Cook 10 minutes longer, turning occasionally, until potatoes are tender and golden brown. Beat eggs lightly with remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Pour off excess oil from potatoes. Pour eggs over potatoes and cook about 3 minutes or until eggs are set. Shake pan back and forth to keep omelet from sticking. Cover skillet with inverted flat plate and turn out omelet. Using a spatula, carefully slide omelet back into skillet. Cook just till underside is done. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 servings.

Fun-To-Be-Young Lunch

It's the gloomy season . . . the trees are bare, the air is bitter, and all too often a bad weather report forces the youngsters to find entertainment indoors.

To help brighten low-spirited tots, plan a fun-to-be-young lunch. All you need is a bit of imagination and an ordinary meal can easily become a mini-party. For a main dish tailored for tots, heat up a shelf-handy can of "SpaghettiOs" with meatballs in tomato sauce. Made with enriched spaghetti circles and tender little ground beef meatballs, this nourishing dish can be ready to serve in less than 5 minutes. What could be better for a busy Mom!

After heating "O's" (one can makes 2 to 3 servings), spoon them into perky serving dishes or unusual containers. Have crunchy carrot and celery sticks to go along.

For a drink with lots of fizz and fancy but no fuss to prepare, treat the kids to Apple Fizzle. Sugar cookies will complete your mini-party menu.

APPLE FIZZLE

1 cup apple juice
1 cup lemon-lime soda
1 cup vanilla ice cream
Cinnamon
2 to 3 thin orange slices, unpeeled
2 to 3 maraschino cherries

Beat juice, soda, and ice cream until smooth with blender, rotary beater, or electric mixer. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Serve immediately. Garnish with orange and cherry. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Two-Way Wonder!

It's a wonder—and a pleasure—to find a recipe that can be served two ways. Frosty Nesselrode Mountain is a salad or dessert, whichever suits you best.

As a salad, it refreshes. Served 'longside a heavy, hearty meat entree, Frosty Nesselrode Mountain is light, pretty and complementing to the main course. Another time, a different occasion, it goes nicely with coffee or tea as a lovely dessert.

Of course it's a fix-ahead recipe which busy women love. And it's prepared with cream cheese, mayonnaise and golden, tart-sweet pineapple preserves. Chopped walnuts and candied cherries give the Mountain its interesting texture; whipped cream "holds it together" deliciously. Frosty Nesselrode Mountain rests in the freezer several hours or overnight before being served to delighted diners.

Frosty Nesselrode Mountain

1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup pineapple preserves
½ cup raisins
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup candied cherries, halved
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Salad Greens

Soften cream cheese; blend with mayonnaise; add pineapple preserves, raisins, walnuts and cherries. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into 9 by 5 by 3-inch pan; freeze overnight or for several hours. Serve as salad or dessert. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

PACK A PEAR TO SCHOOL
ASR

Packable Fresh Pear Snacks

With school days here, packed lunches become important projects, and fresh West Coast Bartlett pears play an important role. Not only do they pack well, but they offer speedy energy to lunch-carrying students. For a new way to "pack-a-pear" try stuffing them with the following variety of tasty fillings.

Stuffed Lunch Box Pears

Core fresh Western Bartlett pears and slice into wedges. A pear slicer is convenient for this. Dip pear slices in lemon juice to prevent browning. Stuff with choice of following mixtures:

Peanut Orange Stuffing

1/3 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
1 teaspoon chopped nuts

Combine ingredients and spread on cut pear wedges. Put wedges together, whole-pear fashion. Makes enough for 3 to 4 fresh Bartlett pears.

Bacon Cheese Spread

1/3 cup cheese spread
2 tablespoons crisp bacon bits
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives

Combine ingredients, spread each fresh Bartlett pear wedge with about 1 teaspoon mixture. Enough spread for 3 pears.

Black And White Filling

1/3 cup cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
Paprika

Combine softened cream cheese with chopped olives. Spread on cut wedges of fresh Bartlett pears and sprinkle with paprika. Put together, whole-pear style, and wrap well in foil. Filling for 3 pears.

Sausage Casserole Hints of Intriguing Cuisine

To enjoy a tasty sample of the special flavor of Greece, prepare a dinner dish that hints of this romatic, historic and festive land.

Sausage-Peanut Pilaf

1 pound fresh pork sausage
1 cup finely sliced celery
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup cooked rice
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup chopped green pepper
⅓ cup salted peanuts
6 to 8 stuffed green olives, sliced

Cook sausage until lightly browned. Add celery and onion and cook 3 minutes. Pour off drippings. Add cooked rice, soup and green pepper to sausage mixture. Pour into a 1-quart casserole and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes. Serve topped with sliced olives. 4 servings.

Meaty Made-Ahead Sandwiches Provide Popular Hot Supper or Snack with Ease

Not all the family always eats together nowadays. Often schedules don't jibe and mom becomes a short order cook, much to her dismay. Or if she's the family member that must be somewhere else, it may mean a cold meal for the children and even for dad.

Yet a hot meal is important, especially in chilly weather. A solution for lunch or supper is satisfying made-ahead sandwiches that can be heated all at once or individually upon demand.

Meat in the sandwiches provides not only flavor but the protein, iron and B vitamins that the family needs.

Barbecued Beefburgers

2 pounds ground beef
2 medium-sized onions, chopped
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
8 hamburger buns

Lightly brown ground beef, onion and green pepper. Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce, mustard, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce and salt to meat mixture, combining thoroughly. Bring to boil, reduce heat and cook over low heat 20 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon barbecue mixture on bottom halves of buns, cover with bun tops and serve at once. Or filled buns can be individually wrapped in foil and heated in 300°F. oven. 8 servings.

Ham and Cheese Bunwiches

2 cups cubed ham (¼ to ½-inch cubes)
4 ounces Cheddar cheese, cut in ¼ to ½-inch cubes
½ cup raisins
2 tablespoons pickle relish
¼ cup mayonnaise
8 hamburger buns

Combine meat, cheese, raisins, pickle relish and mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Place ⅓ cup of mixture on bottom half of each bun and place on cooky sheet. Place top halves of buns on meat mixture. Cover tightly with foil and bake in a 400°F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes, depending on whether sandwiches were stored in refrigerator before being placed in oven. Serve warm. Filled buns can be individually wrapped in foil, stored in refrigerator and baked later. 8 servings.

Cheese Hashburgers

1 can (15½ ounces) corned beef hash
⅓ cup catsup
2 tablespoons pickle relish
¼ teaspoon oregano
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
4 hamburger buns
8 slices Cheddar cheese

Combine corned beef hash, catsup, pickle relish, oregano and mustard. Split buns in half and toast slightly. Spread hash mixture on buns evenly, covering the toasted surface completely. Broil 3 to 5 inches from the heat 6 to 8 minutes or until mixture is heated through. Place a slice of Cheddar cheese on top of meat mixture on each bun and broil 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese is melted. 8 servings.

The Whisperliner

Aircraft To Set New Comfort Standards

A new aircraft is coming to America, to be introduced by Eastern Airlines in November of 1971.

It is a remarkable aircraft, but not in the usual ways. It isn't going to be the biggest, nor the fastest. It can't fly the farthest or the highest.

But this aircraft — the Lockheed 1011 — which Eastern calls Whisperliner, does two things of vital importance for the public.

1. It is going to be the most personalized and comfortable aircraft in service. The seats were specially designed for maximum comfort, the ceilings are eight feet high, the two aisles are wide and probably most important of all, there is no longer a middle seat. Every first class or coach passenger is on an aisle, or the next seat over. It is the right size: spacious yet intimate — with all of the warmth of your own living room.

2. It is going to be a good neighbor aircraft. Unlike some of the very large aircraft, the Whisperliner can operate economically and efficiently from medium-size airports as well as span the nation nonstop. Its three high bypass ratio fanjet engines will reduce smoke pollution and noise considerably below that of present aircraft which, in turn, were a major advance over the first generation of jet aircraft.

Starting late in 1971 it will serve many millions of people in this country, while respecting the rights of people on the ground.

The Whisperliner will accommodate 268 passengers. Food service promises to be the best and most efficient yet, with quick-heating infrared ovens in a lower level. Elevators will bring the fresh, hot food to the passenger level, where flight attendants will distribute it by carts designed to do their job graciously without getting in the way.

A variety of passenger services innovations have been developed especially for the Whisperliner, including soft interior lighting and polarized windows which adjust from full daylight to blackness by the push of a lever. Individual over-head racks will secure wig boxes, gifts and other precious carry-on luggage, while outer garments are safely stored in special clothing compartments, or near at hand in between-seat coat racks. With increasing family travel in mind, Whisperliner will also provide private baby changing facilities.

Eastern has such faith in this aircraft that it plans to receive 50 of them, at $15 million each, and has established the special training and support operations for this vast new fleet.

The Whisperliner—a whole new type of aircraft for the 1970s.

How To Be A Freshman—At Home

HOME STUDY
ASR

Have you asked yourself recently what you want out of life? More money? A better job? The very special kind of skill and knowledge in an area that will make people look up to you?

Surprisingly, you can meet your goals—as nearly five million other alert Americans are learning—through home study. A few hours a week invested at your convenience, at the time and place of your own choosing, can get you that special education, whether you want to learn a new language, become a television serviceman, or become a professional person.

With home study, you travel forward just as fast as you want. Your progress is not held up by other people who may not be as bright or as interested in getting ahead as you are.

When you study at home, you're the boss of your own time, but you're not exactly "on your own". You're backed up by skilled instructors who are experts in the subjects they teach and in working with home study students.

So popular has home study become that there are now more students taking correspondence courses than there are freshmen entering all public and private colleges combined, points out the National Home Study Council, the organization of accredited correspondence schools.

Accreditation for a home study school means that it has a competent faculty, offers up-to-date courses, screens students for admission, and charges reasonable tuition. The Accrediting Commission of the NHSC, the only agency which the U.S. Office of Education has recognized for private home study schools, takes months to examine and certify a candidate school. Personal on-site inspections by educators and business administrators are required.

You can find out exactly what courses are available from accredited schools by writing to the National Home Study Council, Washington, D. C. 20009. Ask for the free NHSC Directory. It may give you some good ideas.

If you ever wonder about the speed of a Texas jackrabbit, it sometimes revs up to 45 miles an hour, darting and dodging among the prairie cacti.

Stay far back from a skunk if you want to be safe. It can hit its target at ranges up to 10 feet and has the capacity of a six-shooter.

SINCE 1860

The Point Of No Return? Pollution Crisis-Entering

WASHINGTON

"The human race may be in even more trouble than we think," the ecologist said bluntly. "Very possibly, man won't know he has passed the point of no return until it's too late."

Gordon Young agreed. He already had seen some of the menace of that grim warning. As a National Geographic staff writer, he had spent six months traveling the world taking murky measure of how man is befouling his next.

"Unless we stop abusing our vital life-support systems, they will fail," Young writes in the December magazine. "We must maintain them or pay the penalty. The penalty is death."

'Growth With Goodness"

His story, "Pollution, Threat to Man's Only Home," with pictures by staff photographer James P. Blair, leads off a pioneering three-part look at "Our Ecological Crisis."

It is accompanied by a double world map and painting supplement, "The World and How We Abuse It," and the haunting photographic report of "The Fragile Beauty All About Us" by Harry S.C. Yen, also a National Geographic Staff member and prize-winning nature phtographer. winning nature photographer.

"One of our basic errors," said ecologist Lamont Cole, "is that we always equate growth with goodness." Dr. Cole, of Cornell University, was making the same point repeated by almost every ecologist Young interviewed.

"We have to stop growth somewhere," Dr. Cole added. "And, if we don't stop the population explosion, there's very little chance of solving our other problems. It's the key to the whole thing."

Everywhere Young found evidence of the discards from the world's ever - growing population.

Cans, Bottles, TV Sets

He writes: "Last year Americans threw away 50 billion empty cans, 30 billion glass containers, 4 million tons of plastics, and more than a million television sets."

Americans, he learned, produce a daily average of six pounds of waste per person, gorging landfill dumps and fueling incinerators that belch more smoke.

Nine million cars are disposed of each year. Many are abandoned -- including 150 on the streets of New York City every day.

Man dumps from three to ten million tons of oil into the world's oceans every year.

In Tokyo Young found traffic policemen refreshing themselves from oxygen tanks. In the industrial Ruhr of Germany he saw how the corrosive air from heavy industry etched and turned brown a test square of shiny steel in only two months. In Milan, Washington, and Paris he saw statues eaten away by airborne acid.

Much of the pollution can be outlawed, but not without cost. Young pointed out the dilemma facing lawmakers across the country:

"If a plant has polluted the air for fifty years, and is operating on a close budget--can we, in good conscience, make demands that will drive it into bankruptcy? On the other hand, can we afford to risk our health by continuing to breathe the smoke?"

Young's article catalogs some of the changes man brings to his world in the name of improvements, which often backfire into pollution problems.

Manure a Menace

Down on the farm, cattle have been turned out of fields traditionally revitalized by natural fertilization and have been penned into feeder lots where manure becomes a major disposal and pollution problem. Meanwhile, fields suffer from lack of organic fertilizer.

Some insecticides have prevented epidemics and assured greater health and bigger crop yields. At the same time, they may not only wipe out certain endangered species of animals, but, by invading the food chain, threaten man as well.

Mercury, valuable in saving stored grain from spoiling fungus, menaces man through his food. Lead, a long-used additive in gasoline, is another toxic appearing increasingly in human bones.

Nuclear power plants may be efficient generators on the one hand and, on the other, produce thermal pollution--making water hotter than marine life can tolerate in rivers needed to cool the reactors.

Strip mining for coal produces needed fuel efficiently, but leaves behind canyons of desolation highly vulnerable to erosion, and where little will grow for many years.

Phosphates, one of the main ingredients that do the job in chemical fertilizers and in laundry and dishwashing detergents, also are major dangers to the life of lakes.

Phosphates, carried to lakes in sewage, overstimulate plant growth, especially algae, which then die, sink to the lake bottom and decompose. The process robs the water of oxygen.

Much of the water in Lake Erie already is without the oxygen needed to sustain fish and other marine life.

Pollution Blankets All

The burning of fuel by jet aircraft leaves vast quantities of water vapor in the air, increasing the cloud cover and further cutting the amount of the sun's energy that reaches Earth. Supersonic transports may increase the blanketing effect in the stratosphere where drifing clouds dissipate more slowly.

Pollution fighters have won victories that ecologists say must only be the beginning of what they emphasize is man's fight for survival.

Los Angeles, "Smog City, U. S.A.", is at least holding its own, thanks to the Nation's toughest regulations against air pollution.

A communitywide effort produced a new sewage disposal operation that has saved Seattle's Lake Washington from the kind of death that threatens Lake Erie.

Garbage and rubbish is incinerated without giving off smoke particles while generating light and heat for a community of 40,000 in West Germany.

More factory wastes are being recycled or reused. Old newspapers reprocessed into new front pages sometimes whimsically inform readers of the anti-pollution effort with the headline: "You've read this paper before."

Rockdale Airman Receives Sentence

Airman William T. Pearson, 20, of Rockdale, was found guilty of rape Dec. 8 by a seven-man military jury at the Corpus Christi naval air station.

He was sentenced to 18 months confinement and a bad conduct discharge. Results of the general court-martial are subject to review by higher authority.

Pearson was charged with raping a 20-year-old WAVE at Padre Island National Seashore last July.

Badgers, Eagles Named On 10-B All-District List

Two Buckholts Badgers and three Milano Eagles are named to All-District teams in District 10 B six-man football, and Badger Gordon Haisler was selected to play in the six-man All-Star game set for next July.

Honorable mentions also went to Badgers and Eagles.

Named to All-District offense are Richard Kudlacek, senior at Buckholts High, and Johnny Hurt, senior at Milano High.

Milano senior Gary Shaw and junior Del Davis, and Gordon Haisler of Buckholts were named on defense.

Honorable mentions on the offensive lineup went to Buckholts freshman Larry Orsag; and senior Gary Shaw and sophomore Michael Williams of Milano.

Defense honorable mention went to James Hartley, senior at Milano.

District 10 B seniors selected to play in the six-man All-Star game to be held in Levelland in July, 1971 are Willie Leos and Charles Vandiver, both of Oglesby, Kenneth Sayer of Jarrell, and Haisler.

Food Up; Income Up More

Last year consumers spent $511 per person for all food, a 34 per cent increase over the 1957-59 average. Personal income, however, for the same period rose 68 per cent, from $1,846 to $3,098. Thus, people who spent 20.6 per cent of disposable income on foods during '57-'59 period spent only 16.5 per cent in 1969, a decrease of over 4% for food.

Badgerettes Win Bartlett Tourney

On December 3, 4, 5 the Buckholts Badgers and Badgerettes participated in the Bartlett Invitational Tournament along with a few other schools in the area.

They were Salado boys, Thrall girls, Holland, Jarrell, Thorndale, Leander, and the hosts, Bartlett.

On Thursday, the girls played the Granger Lions. Martha Vaculin led the Badgerettes to a 57-36 victory by scoring 25 points. High pointer for Granger was Regina White with 14 points.

On Friday morning, the boys traveled to Bartlett to meet a fired up Thorndale team who defeated the Badgers 54-26. Gordon Haisler paced the Badgers with a total of 21 points. Calvin had 22 points to lead the Bulldogs to their victory.

Then on Saturday morning, the boys and girls started to Bartlett for the elimination games.

The boys played first defeating Jarrell in a close game by a score of 29-26. Larry Orsag led the Badgers to a victory by scoring 14 points. David Garcia had 11 points to lead the Cougar scoring.

This win placed the Badgers in the Consolation game.

The Badgerettes followed the boys playing the Leander girls in a rough but hard won battle.

Becky Beckhusen paced the Badgerettes to the 31-25 victory over Leander by scoring 15 points. High pointer for into the finals playing against the Bartlett Lassies.

The boys played against a riled up Lion team. The result was a win for Granger over the Badgers 61-36. Gordon Haisler led the Badgers by throwing in 24 points. Fails led the Lions with 20 points.

In the finals, the Badgerettes played impressive basketball and came out on top with the championship by defeating the Bartlett Lassies 49-38.

Martha Vaculin led the way for the Badgerettes by scoring 20 points. Sarah Ware and Debra Janke tied for high point honors with 15 points a piece.

Consolation awards went to the Jarrell girls and Granger boys. Second place awards went to the Bartlett girls and Bartlett boys.

First place awards went to the Buckholts girls and Thorndale boys.

Martha Vaculin and Jo Ann Beckhusen were placed on the All-Tournament team.

"Jack Frost" is a fink. . . he is afraid to come out like a man and nip "your toes and bite your nose."

In Texas, he sends a Norther. He chases out warm weather with a poor substitute for winter: a chilling breeze that only penetrates, never quite freezes.

Any self-respecting weather changer like Mr. Frost would come banging in with real ice and snow.

But our Texas winter intimidates the mercury just enough to approach freezing. The weather vane, thrust this way and that by these sharp gusts, is rigid.

This nippy weather is more seasonable, isn't it? Coat November with balm and crust over when December is cold.

Central Texans don't really want ice and snow, even if Christmas approaches. But we're not sure whether it's any worse to turn blue when a cold wind blows than it is when a snow falls.

Streets are more dangerous. There might even be some snow for snowballs.

But the wind that blows cuts through a parka or a topcoat and splinters the spleen and numbs the digits, five to a hand frozen.

Area Roundup

School Bond Defeated

CALDWELL

Voters in Caldwell defeated a $1,300,000 school bond issue by a three-to-one margin Saturday. The bond proposal would have provided financing for a new high school building and junior high in a two phase program. High school students have been attending classes in the gymnasium basement since the original high school was abandoned 3 years ago. The vote Saturday was 730 against and 246 for the proposal.

City Bond Issue Probable

ROCKDALE

Rockdale faces a bond issue for expansion of the city sewage treatment plant that was described as "undersized and poorly designed" in a study report by Hunter Engineers, municipal engineering firm. The Rockdale sewer plant has been under fire from the Texas Water Quality Board because of wastewater being discharged by the plant. The proposed modernization was estimated at $164,160, 33 percent of which would be available through a grant from the Federal Water Pollution Control Act.

New Firehouse Dedicated

HEARNE

Dedication ceremonies Sunday formally opened the newly completed Hearne Fire Dept. building. The modern building with glass and antique brick front, was open for tours during the afternoon.

Resthome Nears Completion

ROSEBUD

Finishing work is underway at the 104 bed Heritage House rest home under construction in Rosebud. The modern brick rest home will have 12 guest rooms in addition to the patients rooms. No date has been set for the official opening.

Test Figures Filed On Two C-N Wells

Potential test figures for two recently drilled wells in the Cherokee Navarro Field southeast of Milano were filed late last week, and plans for a new wildcat to be drilled in east Milam County are reported underway.

Byron Rose, Houston operator who opened the Cherokee Navarro Field a year ago with his No. 1 Ray Woods discovery, has filed potential on his No. 4 and No. 6 Ray Woods.

The No. 4 Ray Woods pumped 35 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day on perforations at 3,028 - 040 feet.

The No. 6, perforated at 3,098 - 120 feet, pumped 33 barrels of 39 gravity oil with a trace of water on test.

Both wells produced from the Navarro and had been treated by hydraulic fracture.

Plans for the new wildcat to be drilled in east Milam County are still in the preliminary stages, according to some sources in the oil patch.

Feboco Oil Corporation reportedly has plans underway for a wildcat in the area. Location will be on a Peter C. Gibson tract of about 400 acres in W. E. Harris Grant, and approximately two miles west of Wildcat Bridge on the Brazos River.

Reportedly the wildcat will be a 5,200 foot test, with the Edwards Lime as its objective.

Feboco Oil Corporation began a leasing campaign in the east Milam area early last spring and summer and has assembled a lease block of several thousand acres. There has been little or no drilling activity in that section of the county for several years and no production reported.

Trustees Plan Building Study

Will Project Local Schools' Future Needs

Cameron school trustees Thursday night were asked to start a long-range study of the schools' future building needs after hearing reports of near-completion on the new homemaking cottage.

The request was made by Board President Hilliard Thomas, who also told trustees that several proposals will be offered to the State Legislature next year that could have vital affects on school districts.

Discussion continued on new regulations for free or reduced price lunches. Supt. D. R. Dodson, who outlined the new federal regulations at the November board meeting, told trustees the biggest problem would be physical, since lunchrooms are now operating at capacity.

Other school facilities operating under less than ideal conditions were discussed, including high school math classes being held at Ada Henderson School, and boys and girls physical education classes crowded into one gym. Lack of a central assembly hall was also noted.

Thomas will name a committee at the January meeting to study school needs and begin long-range planning.

One legislative proposal receiving strong lobby support would change the proportion of State-district school funds from its present 80-20 to 75-25, Thomas told trustees.

He said it would mean an immediate increase in local school taxes if the proposal became law.

The board voted to take necessary actions to bring the district into compliance with the lunch program regulations. This includes sending notification of the program's availability and application forms to all parents.

Supt. Dodson reported progress on the new homemaking building and invited board members to tour the facility after the meeting. Final floor work and interior finishing is in progress, and equipment is ready to be moved in.

In routine business, the board set April 3, 1971 for the annual trustee election, and moved the January meeting to Tuesday, Jan. 12 instead of Thursday.

HAVING A 'ROOT BEER BUST' - This fifth grade class at Ada Henderson School is having a good time enjoying the contest winnings of Patricia Matula, left. Patricia won two cases of rootbeer for an essay on her favorite teacher, and was proud hostess for the impromptu root beer and popcorn party. Her favorite teacher? Miss Sandra Haire.

Meeting To Air Phone Problems

A meeting of subscribers to the Mid-State Telephone Company has been set for Friday, December 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the Buckholts School gym.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss phone service problems.

Telephone subscribers in the Buckholts, Milano, and Holland areas are urged to attend.

Give Blood: A Gift Of Christmas Love

Are you tired of hearing "Give to The. . ."? Are you tired of trying to decide what gifts to give, and of seeing your bank balance shrinking?

There is one gift you can give Tuesday that is unique -- no cost, no wrapping, no mailing -- but it could be the gift of life.

The gift is a pint of your blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank.

The bloodmobile will be in Cameron Tuesday, Dec. 15 from 12 noon until 6 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall. Quota is 71 units, but officials hope the quota is topped in view of the upcoming Christmas and New Year holidays and the attendant accidents.

A replacement list will be available for donors who wish to help replace blood used by individual patients.

In addition to the seasonal increase in use by hospitals, there are patients whose lives from month to month, or year to year, depend on blood transfusions. At least one local man is in this category, Sister Aloysius, local blood program chairman said.

Any healthy person between the ages of 18 and 66 may be a blood donor. Parent's permission is required for donors under 21.

Regular donors already know the feeling of satisfaction that comes from giving "something of themselves" and Tuesday will be a good day for new donors to discover it.

This gift is one for which you won't receive a "thank you" note in the mail, and the recepient won't even know who gave it, but after all, isn't this the best kind at Christmas?

Mobile Homes...

Solving The Housing Shortage

Trailer homes, once a rare sight in smaller communities, have become more popular as high building costs and industrial growth combine to create a housing shortage. Cameron now has 24 families living in trailer homes within the city limits, more than triple the mobile house count of four years ago.

Trailer home occupants list easy care, low taxes and mobility as plus factors. Biggest problem seems to be finding attractive and convenient trailer parks.

Major cities are providing parking spaces with playground and swimming pool facilities, landscaped court yards and 'in town' locations. Parking space rents vary from $20 to $70 per month.

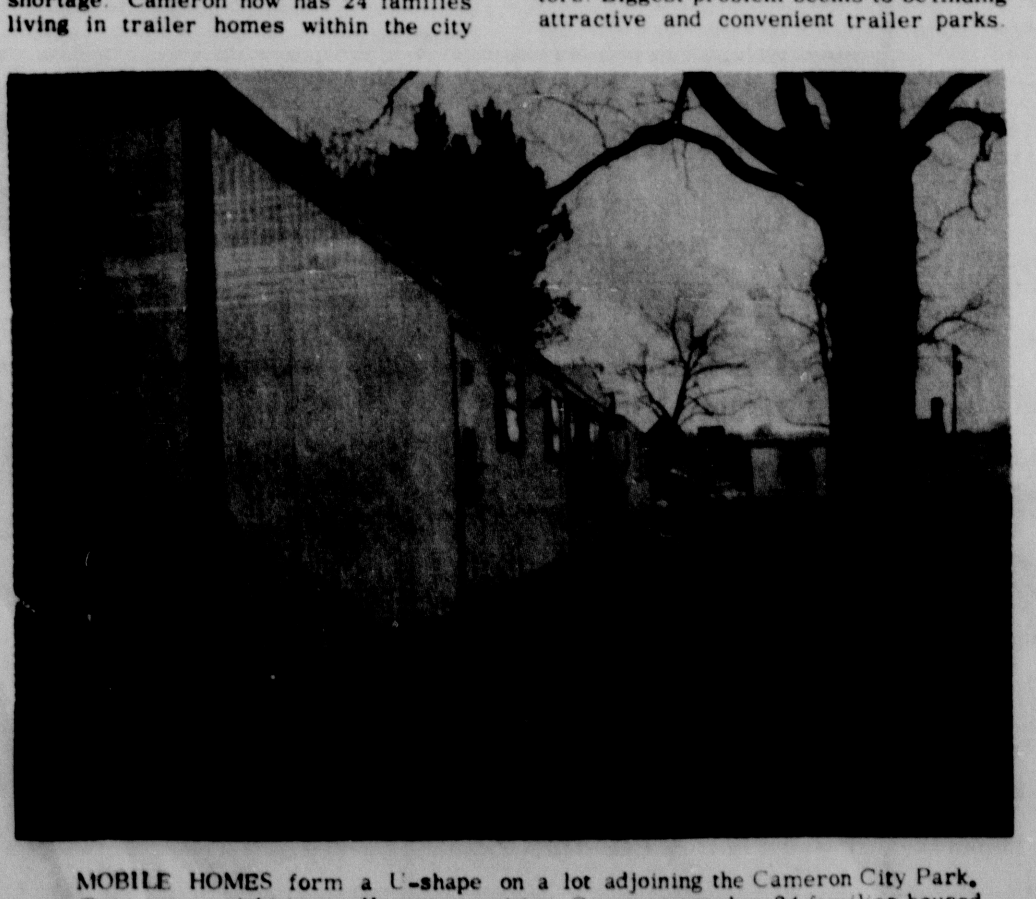
In smaller communities, where the trailers are just becoming a factor, most trailer home owners are having to settle for lots bordering the town. A majority of the mobile homes in Cameron are on individually owned lots and in the three established parks, Elliots, Bailey's and one adjoining City Park.

Newest additions to the trailer home community in Cameron are the Alvin Fails. Fail, a serviceman, was re-assigned from Mississippi to Vietnam. Moving his family to their hometown in Cameron was made easier by their mobile home quarters he said. The house was moved by truck and in a short time was secured on cement foundation posts, utilities hooked up and the family settled with no major unpacking.

The Fails are located on a lot beside City Park. Like their neighbors, the Glenn Lusters, they enjoy the park play equipment for children and the convenience to downtown.

Life inside the mobile homes is not as confining as it might appear. The kitchens are complete with all modern conveniences, there is space for laundry equipment and the livingrooms are carpeted, well lighted and furnished in the newest furniture styles.

Most of the mobile homes in Cameron are two bedroom, however some have three bedrooms and two baths. Most are equipped with central cooling and heating.



MOBILE HOMES form a U-shape on a lot adjoining the Cameron City Park. Once a rare sight in smaller communities, Cameron now has 24 families housed in trailors in parks and on individual lots within the city limits.

Pants Suits 'In' At School

Pants suits were approved as acceptable attire for Cameron school teachers and students at Thursday's school board meeting.

Trustees agreed to the proposition after Supt. D. R. Dodson reported the request from a faculty member.

Approval was unanimous -- with opinions to the effect that "it beats short skirts."

But they must be pants suits," Supt. Dodson told The Herald, "not jeans and a tee shirt." Slacks and jeans were approved for girls wear in freezing weather, at the beginning of school.

Now the girls can wear pants suits without consulting the morning's temperature.

Too Few On This Planet....

Alcoa Foundation President Arthur Doty quoted "the criteria of emotional maturity" during his brief dedicatory address for St. Edward Hospital.

It was written by Dr. William C. Menninger, of the Menninger Clinic. It is particularly apropos of this day of stress for people of all ages, of all persuasions and all stations.

QUOTE:. . . . .

The Critieria of Emotional Maturity

HAVING the ability to deal constructively with reality

HAVING the capacity to adapt to change

HAVING a relative freedom from symptoms that are produced by tensions and anxieties

HAVING the capacity to find more satisfaction in giving than receiving

HAVING the capacity to relate to other people in a consistent manner with mutual satisfaction and helpfulness

HAVING the capacity to sublimate, to direct one's instinctive hostile energy into creative and constructive outlets

HAVING the capacity to love.

. . . . . . END OF QUOTE

People who work under pressure appreciate finding or knowing persons who have realized this maturity. They are too few on this planet.

The Clan Cameron....

Clan Cameron gave Texas Ewen Cameron, killed in the Mier Expedition of the Texas Revolution.

By his death, Ewen Cameron gave Milam County's seat its name.

A plaque bearing that name is in permanent display in the Cameron Public Library, the cast bronze emblem carried by the lend-lease destroyer H.M.S. Cameron early in World War II.

The crowned, circled crest centered by an oak leaf is a handsome addition. It was presented by the British government in formal ceremonies in 1950 through Cameron Rotary Club to the City of Cameron.

If the City of Cameron ever seeks an official emblem, the Cameron emblem would be suitable. Every government at state and national level has a flag and a "great seal" to symbolize its authority and lineage. High public office bears with it an official seal.

Some cities have official seals. An insignia such as this is a natural for Cameron.

It derives from a Texas hero. It is unique in all the United States in tracing to the original Scottish clan. It is an uncomplicated design which is readily identifiable by those just a bit familiar with its background.

If you have not seen it, visit your Cameron Public Library. It is an emblem of historic and futuristic value.

The Diplomatic Pouch

Washington, D. C.--The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

Dealings with North Viet-Nam

Would you kindly provide me with information about those nations which are currently having dealings of any sort with North Viet-Nam?

T.E.
Neenah, Wis.

Dear T.E.:

Although you do not specify the type of dealings you have in mind, it is assumed that you mean primarily foreign trade and economic and military assistance. In these catagories, the Soviet Union and Communist China together account for about two-thirds of North Viet-Nam's foreign trade and an even higher percentage of the economic and military assistance which North Viet-Nam receives.

In addition, North Viet-Nam trades with and receives at least token amounts of aid from all other Communist nations, among which East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and Romania are the next-ranking donors and trading partners. (All Communist nations, including Yugoslavia, have extended formal diplomatic recognition to North Viet-Nam.)

North Viet-Nam also conducts a relatively small amount of trade with certain non-Communistic partners, principally Japan, France, and Singapore, but also, in some years, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, West Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. (Among these only France and Sweden formally recognize North Viet-Nam.)

In past years the ships of several non-Communist countries -- notably Cyprus, Malta, and Singapore, none of which recognize North Viet-Nam -- have called at North Vietnamese ports, although diplomatic efforts by the United States have significantly reduced the number of such calls and the number of nations participating in trade with North Viet-Nam.

Somalia, which recognizes North Viet-Nam, persists in this trade, and as a result we are now terminating our foreign assistance programs in Somalia. In addition, a number of vessels which fly the British flag (because they are registered in Hong Kong) but which are controlled by Chinese Communist interests call at North Vietnamese ports.

Finally, the following non-Communistic countries are considered to have extended diplomatic recognition to North Viet-Nam but have no recorded economic relations with that country: Algeria, Burma, Ceylon, Congo (Brazzaville), Guinea, India, Indonesia, Iraq, Laos, Mauritania, Senegal, South Yemen, Sudan, Syria, Tanzania, the United Arab Republic, and Yemen.

Land Usage

At present one-third of the world's land area is tilled or in pasture; one-fifth covered by snow and ice; two-fifths occupied by deserts, mountains or arid zones. An estimated reserve of 950 million acres are available for tillage. Of these acres, 125 million must be tilled every year to meet food requirements for the 70 million annual increase in population.

FFA BULL RIDING - Each year the FFA takes part in many activities, including the official FFA rodeos. Pictured is Ray Coward of the Marlow Community on a bull at the FFA rodeo in Clifton. Ray is a member of the Yoe High FFA Chapter. I can think of a lot of places I'd rather be than on the back of that bull but to Ray it's a great sport. Bull riding is a contest between the rider and the bull. Sometimes the rider wins and sometimes the bull wins. Here Ray is determined to ride that old bull and the bull is equally determined to get rid of Ray. "This is a good one," Ray says.

Livestock Census

While the "people" census is taken only once every ten years, livestock numbers are calculated annually. Perhaps it's because there aren't as many demograhpic groups to tabulate. At any rate, the nation's cattle, hog and sheep industries have managed—through business like efficiency and know-how—to keep the meat animal population high enough to feed the human population adequate amounts of beef, veal, pork and lamb. Here's what the livestock population amounts to in 1970: 112.3 million cattle and calves; 56.7 million hogs and pigs and 20.4 million sheep and lambs.

BOOKS for your CHILDREN

Meet An Author

For a third of a century, which adds up to a lot of generations of first and second graders, Little Toot has been a classic in American juvenile literature. The picture story of the impish tugboat has been translated into a half dozen foreign languages, has been made into a movie by Walt Disney, and has earned a shelf full of awards for its creator, Hardie Gramatky.

Hardie has since written and illustrated nine more books for children. Each bounces with the natural exuberance of youth, for you must consider that a man whose careers have progressed from bank teller through logger and deck hand to artist-author must be getting younger each year. His latest book is Happy's Christmas, a beguiling tale of five beagle pups that is fiction-but-not-quite. The story has its origins in an earlier Gramatky experience.

Hardie Gramatky was born in Dallas, Texas, and raised in California. After his various employments in the northwest, he settled in Connecticut. In between producing delightful books with his palette and typewriter, he has found time to work for children through various national and local associations, and to paint well enough to earn more than thirty top awards for his watercolors.

If your house shelters youngsters still fascinated by animated tugboats, circus trains, and fire engines, you might entice them to do more reading by bringing Hardie Gramatky titles home from your library. In addition to Happy's Christmas and Little Toot, Hardie is the author-illustrator of:

Bolivar. The story of a burro with the distressing habit of bungling everything. Finally Bolivar has his moment of triumph on an exciting day of the carnival in Quito, Peru.

Little Toot on the Thames. Published on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first Little Toot book, the sequel takes the mischievous tugboat to England for more hair-raising escapades.

Homer and the Circus Train. A little red caboose who loves his railroading career rescues the circus animals who befriended him.

Little Toot on the Grand Canal. A rollicking waterborne adventure in Venice, complete with gondoliers, pirates, and the theft and rescue of the great treasures of the city of canals.

Loopy. A small training plane that feels abused and neglected proves that it can dream and find dreams come happily true.

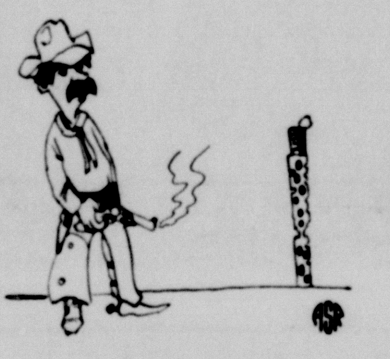
Nikos and the Sea God. A modern Greek boy is caught in a direct struggle with Poseidon, god of the sea, in a colorful tale that blends Greek mythology with a twentieth-century emergency.

Sparky. A little trolley car who usually cannot keep his mind on his work, turns out to be a hero.

Hercules. A fire engine in the days when the horsepower was applied by horses saves the city hall and earns itself a place in the museum.

Below are a few random suggestions of books that may start your youngster on a habit that can be satisfying and useful:

A Bear Before Breakfast by Eth Clifford (Ages 5-9). A hilarious look in words and pictures at some expressions of adults, with literal illustrations of buying a "white elephant," of relatives "dropping in," to say nothing of the title expression.



Jokes and How to Tell Them by Sonny Fox (Ages 8-12). Few are the boys—or girls—who can resist telling and retelling jokes. Here is a collection of jokes and riddles, sorted into types, with some pointers for the young would-be comedian.

Fiesta of Folk Songs of Spain and Latin America by Henrietta Yurchenco (Ages 8-12). Folk songs and singing games given in English, Spanish, and with a pronunciation guide to Spanish. Delightfully illustrated in full color.

Whaling Boy by Peter Freuchen and Fir Salomonsen (Ages 10-13). A novel of an orphaned son of a whaler captain. He persuades another captain to take him on as mess boy on a whaling voyage. Told with authority by the grand old polar explorer.

Cindy Lou by Sonia Fox (Ages 6-9). Whimsical story of a remarkable cow who produced chocolate milk.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

Robert R. Schiller of Cameron and Francis Dean Stiles of Thorndale are candidates for bachelor's degrees from the College of Pharmacy at the end of the University of Texas fall semester.

Meat Bonanza

U.S.D.A. findings show that beef, pork, lamb, veal, poultry, fish and eggs contribute over 40 per cent of the protein in the national diet. Beef ranked highest in consumption, followed by pork. The meat group supplied about one-third of the total iron consumed. Liver supplied 11½ per cent of the total vitamin A intake and pork provided 14 per cent of the total thiamin in the diet.

8,000 Choices

Today's shopping consumer has approximately 8,000 different items to choose from in a big supermarket. About 2,000 new items are added to the shelves every year.

Culpepper's Means Fine Home Furnishings.

Culpepper's in Cameron means home furnishings from floor to ceiling, from kitchen to livingroom, from New Year to Christmas.

Manager Frank Richter, Jr., can advise on what is suitable for a Christmas gift for the home. His 25 years of experience, 12 of them manager of the 10,000 square-foot furniture and appliance center, assures the knowledgability to make your dollar get value received.

Owner of Culpepper Furniture and Milam Music Co., managed by Dwight Moody, is Wallace Culpepper, of Cameron. The store opened in the downtown Cameron location in 1944.

Assisting in sales at Culpepper Furniture is Miss Lena Mae Riddle, who has 14 years of sales experience in this Cameron business.

Assisting Moody in Milam Music Co., which retails records of all kinds are Dwight Moody and Katherine Junek.

Backing Culpepper Furniture's name is a list of, indeed departments full of name-brand merchandise assuring customers value.

Names like General Electric Dearborn, Zenith, Frigidaire, Hoover Eveready, O'Cedar, Pyrex, Morning Glory, Gates, Samsonite, Tappan, Blue Lustre are household words and are everyday stock merchandise at the huge furniture center.

Christmas shoppers right now can save 10 to 20 percent on items like lamps, appliances, dishware, ashtrays and numerous gifts before Christmas.

Major purchases like refrigerators, luggage, appliances, vacuum cleaners, heaters, rugs, tables, television and stereo sets are well stocked for the Yuletime shopper.

Smaller items in price and size, equipment for the outdoorsman, mailboxes, hardware items of many kinds, cardtables, portable record players await you.

And mattresses, livingroom, diningroom and kitchen equipment and suites are well displayed for shopper view.

And when you buy, delivery is assured in a 50-mile radius of Cameron, anywhere in the Milam trade area, no additional charge, of course.

It is always a pleasure to shop where you know the merchandise is good and the personnel are qualified to demonstrate it, to describe its construction and serviceability and the terms on which you may purchase it.

Such an experience awaits the Christmas shopper this season at Culpepper's, easily one of the largest retail firms in the Milam area, and one of the most experienced in selling and servicing furniture and hardware good for years to come.

Schigut's Now Offers Singer Dept.

Schigut's in Cameron has a reputation for good clothing, but the department store has added a new department, the only one in the Milam area.

It is a sales and service department for the famous Singer Sewing Machines, one of the best known household lines in the world.

John Schigut, manager and store owner, is taking as much an interest in the new department as Mrs. Lottie Witt, Mrs. Louise Butler and Mrs. Frieda Smith whose sales experience in clothing and piece goods help in advising what equipment is best for making one's own clothes, curtains and whatever a Singer Sewing machine can do, which is a lot.

Schigut's features a line of Singer machines in a department near the front of the downtown Cameron store. And any model not demonstrated or on display is quickly available through Singer sources at Schigut's.

Schigut's also assures service by Marshall Flores who lives in Cameron and has a number of years experience in maintenance and repair of sewing equipment.

The name Singer is not new to Cameron. It has 119 years since Singer started manufacturing sewing machines, the first models foot-powered instruments only a remote cousin to the ultra-modern equipment now sold at Schigut's.

"Touch and Sew" is a familiar word for the new Model 750 Singer, "Golden Touch & Sew". Its simplicity, versatility and ease of operation is tops and typical of the whole range of Singer sewing equipment.

Other models are in the Touch and Sew line, including Model 756 Special Zig-Zag, the Zig-Zag and the Deluxe Staight Stitch Touch & Sew.

These machines do it all, when it comes to sewing.

But, of course, the Golden Touch & Sew is the only model which has all the features of the 1970 line, including:

--Both built-in and interchangeable Fashion Discs, which produce almost unlimited variety of practical and decorative stich-of practical and decorative stitches.

--Flexi-Stitch Discs that produce stretchable stitches for knits and stretch fabrics plus intricate stitch designs, including hemstitching, feather stitching.

--One-way needle clamp that makes it impossible to insert the needle backwards.

--Two kinds of temporary stitching for speed basting or chainstitching for growth tucks and removeable trims.

--Two-speed motor with a fast speed range for seams and slower range for precision control.

These are features, part or all, of the famous Singer Sewing Machine line. And Schigut's in Cameron is your Singer dealer for sales and service.

Call John Schigut, 697-3343, for more information. Better, yet, visit Schigut's.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors New Bride

Mrs. Timothy Zierke, the former Linda Malovets of Buckholts and Temple, was honored with amiscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Patricia Horne, Tuesday night, December 8th.

Hostesses were Mrs. Pat Horne and Miss Saundra Robbins.

Guest of honor was Mrs. Ida Herrmann, grandmother of the bride. The couple was married at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Hermann on Saturday, November 28.

Mrs. Horace York registered the guests and Mrs. Cynthia Geers served the punch.

The bride's table was laid with a white lace tablecloth. The cake was white with red and green decorations carrying out the motif of Christmas. The cake was inscirbed with "Congratulations to Time and Linda". Lime sherbet punch was served by Mrs. Cynthia Geers.

The couple is living at 1719 South 19th Street in Temple. The bride is employed at Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple and the groom is serving in the United States Army at Fort Hood.

'Ruby Red' Grapefruit Adds Zest

The Texas Department of Agriculture and TexaSweet from the Texas Valley Citrus Committee have joined forces again to promote fresh fruits and vegetables, with special emphasis on Texas Ruby Red Grapefruit - fresh from the Valley.

Texas grapefruit is good the year round and most abundant during the months of October through June.

Serve grapefruit hot or cold, in halves or slices. The tart flavor of grapefruit adds zest and enhances meats, vegetables, salads, beverages and desserts. The Texas ruby red grapefruit is excellent by itself or may be dressed up by sugar, honey or other spices, and by using salad dressings.

Grapefruit is an excellent source of Vitamin C and is necessary for the daily diet requirements. Grapefruit halves contain only 50 calories and are good for weight watchers.

Texas is most famous for the Ruby red which was developed in 1929 in McAllen. Ruby Reds may be distinguished by their crimson blush and red meat flesh and they are "sweeter by nature" due to their high sugar content in comparison to acid content.

Two points to keep in mind when selecting citrus fruits are heaviness in relation to size and thinness of skins. Russet skins are not an indication of inferior quality. Look for citrus fruits, that are firm, and smooth skinned. Thin skin indicates juiciness.

There are many wonderful ways of fixing Ruby Red grapefruit - try for your self and taste the difference.

Personal Mention

Tucker Wilkerson of Cleveland visited his mother, Mrs. Lula Wilkerson in the nursing home in Cameron Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Brashear of San Antonio won a trip to Acapulco, Mex. in a recent contest. Mrs. Brashear is the daughter of the Edwin Duseks of Cameron and Ronald is the son of the J. W. Brashears of Cameron.

Mrs. J. W. Brashear is in Ohio visiting with her daughter and son-in-law.

Teen Talk Corner
Don't Be Brow Beaten

By Marian Holden

The general rule for eyebrow makeup (or shaping) is to start directly above the inner corner of the eye (unless using corrective measurers). Looking straight ahead, the highest point of the eyebrow arch should be just above the outside edge of the iris. To end the brow draw an imaginary line from your nostril through the outside corner of your eye. The brow should never be taken lower at the end than the level at which they were started. Soft, short, feather, like strokes with your eyebrow pencil will create a natural look. By using your color plus another of a complimenting shade you will create the natural look. After applying the pencils take a small mascara brush and lightly brush in an outward direction to blend and soften the effect.

If you are fortunate to have heavy, dark brows, just tweeze them into shape using the above guideline. Then tweeze excess hair below the brow and between the eyes, but never above the brow. Before you start to tweeze sponge the eyebrow area with a little alcohol on a cotton pad, this will help to avoid infection. You can painlessly tweeze out excess hair if you will hold the skin below the brow tight with your thumb and forefinger, pull out the tiny hairs one at a time and pull in the direction in which the hair grows. Do this also in the area between the eyes. When finished tweezing, sponge the area again with alcohol.

A well-defined arch helps add length to the face; while very little arch should be used where extra face width is desired.

'Angry Man' Review For Study Club

"An Angry Man Talks Up to Youth" by K. Ross Toole was the book reviewed by Mrs. Robert Clark at a recent meeting of the Pleasure and Profit Club.

The Club met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Looney with Mrs. H. M. Yager as co-hostess.

Mrs. Clark's review opened with Dr. Ross' emphatic statement that he "is tired of the tyranny of spoiled brats" and it is "time to call a halt."

"We owe the 'younger generation' what all 'older generations' have owed younger generations - love, protection to a point, and respect when they deserve it. We do not owe them our souls, our privacy, our whole lives - and, above all, we do not owe them immunity from our mistakes, or their own," Mrs. Clark quoted.

She said Dr. Ross thinks that most of the younger generation is fine and bemoans the fact that the minority threatens to tyrannize the majority.

"I assert that we are in trouble with this younger generation not because we have failed to keep that generation in its place and failed to put it back there when it got out. We have the power; we do not have the will. We have the right; we have not exercised it."

"It is our country, too. We have fought for it, bled for it, dreamed for it and we love it. It is time to reclaim it," Mrs. Clark quoted.

Following the program Mrs. Walter Lester presided at a business meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. J. A. Bowling.

Refreshments of pecan pie with whipped cream topping and coffee were served to 16 members and one new member, Mrs. Bobby Carter.

Christmas Party For A-S League

Traditional Christmas decor and candlelight was the setting for the Arts and Service League Christmas dinner party Thursday night. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Dana Kestenbaum and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luecke.

A buffet Christmas dinner was served from the dining room table which was centered with an arrangement of pine branches, red balls and red candles.

The 45 dinner guests were seated at tables covered with gold clothes and centered with massed candles in varied heights.

The Christmas party was the December meeting for the Arts and Service League.

Output per man-hour on the farm increased 83% between 1959 and 1969. Farmers now produce over 20% more food and fiber on 6% fewer acres.

GOLDEN WEDDING - Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beckhusen Sr. of Buckholts will be honored on their Golden Wedding Anniversary with an open house Sunday, December 20, from 2 until 4:30 p.m. at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Beckhusen of Buckholts. Their other son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Beckhusen Jr. of Bryan will be co-hosts for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Beckhusen were married December 22, 1920 in Brenham and have lived their married life in Milam County.

WINTER FOOD IDEAS

Washington Russets In Spanish Omelet

While the fresh harvest of Washington Russet potatoes is in abundant supply, treat your family to this nourishing and inexpensive Spanish Potato Omelet. It's ideal for brunch or a late supper accompanied by fried country sausage or thick rashers of bacon and broiled tomatoes. Or, serve the omelet cold as they do in Spain at their tapas or "appetizer hours" before the late evening meal. Washington Russets are an all purpose potato grown in extremely fertile plains of the Columbia River Basin.

Spanish Potato Omelet
(Tortilla de Patata)

2 pounds Washington Russet potatoes
¼ cup olive oil
1½ teaspoons salt
1 medium onion, chopped
5 eggs

Peel potatoes and slice thin. Heat oil in 10½-inch skillet. Add potatoes. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon salt. Cook over moderate heat 10 minutes, turning occasionally. Add onion. Cook 10 minutes longer, turning occasionally, until potatoes are tender and golden brown. Beat eggs lightly with remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Pour off excess oil from potatoes. Pour eggs over potatoes and cook about 3 minutes or until eggs are set. Shake pan back and forth to keep omelet from sticking. Cover skillet with inverted flat plate and turn out omelet. Using a spatula, carefully slide omelet back into skillet. Cook just till underside is done. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 servings.

Fun-To-Be-Young Lunch

It's the gloomy season . . . the trees are bare, the air is bitter, and all too often a bad weather report forces the youngsters to find entertainment indoors.

To help brighten low-spirited tots, plan a fun-to-be-young lunch. All you need is a bit of imagination and an ordinary meal can easily become a mini-party. For a main dish tailored for tots, heat up a shelf-handy can of "SpaghettiOs" with meatballs in tomato sauce. Made with enriched spaghetti circles and tender little ground beef meatballs, this nourishing dish can be ready to serve in less than 5 minutes. What could be better for a busy Mom!

After heating "O's" (one can makes 2 to 3 servings), spoon them into perky serving dishes or unusual containers. Have crunchy carrot and celery sticks to go along.

For a drink with lots of fizz and fancy but no fuss to prepare, treat the kids to Apple Fizzle. Sugar cookies will complete your mini-party menu.

APPLE FIZZLE

1 cup apple juice
1 cup lemon-lime soda
1 cup vanilla ice cream
Cinnamon
2 to 3 thin orange slices, unpeeled
2 to 3 maraschino cherries

Beat juice, soda, and ice cream until smooth with blender, rotary beater, or electric mixer. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Serve immediately. Garnish with orange and cherry. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Two-Way Wonder!

It's a wonder—and a pleasure—to find a recipe that can be served two ways. Frosty Nesselrode Mountain is a salad or dessert, whichever suits you best.

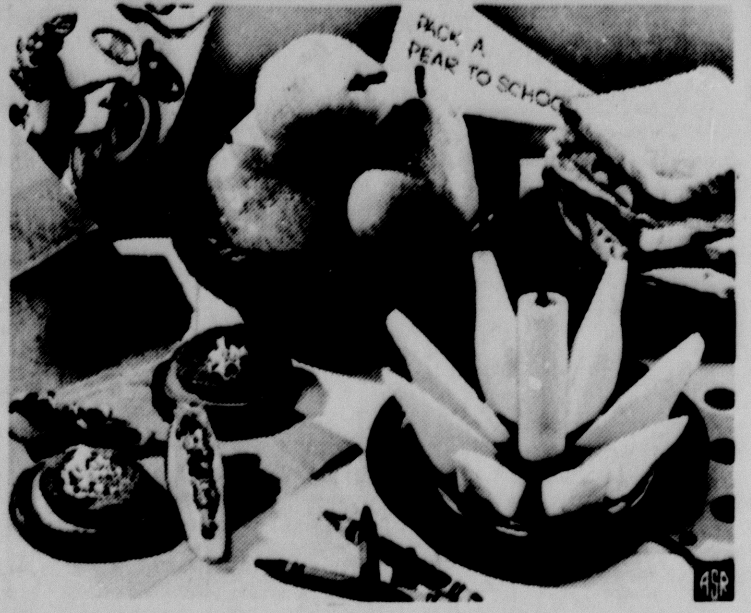
As a salad, it refreshes. Served 'longside a heavy, hearty meat entree, Frosty Nesselrode Mountain is light, pretty and complementing to the main course. Another time, a different occasion, it goes nicely with coffee or tea as a lovely dessert.

Of course it's a fix-ahead recipe which busy women love. And it's prepared with cream cheese, mayonnaise and golden, tart-sweet pineapple preserves. Chopped walnuts and candied cherries give the Mountain its interesting texture; whipped cream "holds it together" deliciously. Frosty Nesselrode Mountain rests in the freezer several hours or overnight before being served to delighted diners.

Frosty Nesselrode Mountain

1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup pineapple preserves
½ cup raisins
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup candied cherries, halved
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Salad Greens

Soften cream cheese; blend with mayonnaise; add pineapple preserves, raisins, walnuts and cherries. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into 9 by 5 by 3-inch pan; freeze overnight or for several hours. Serve as salad or dessert. Makes 8 to 10 servings.



Packable Fresh Pear Snacks

With school days here, packed lunches become important projects, and fresh West Coast Bartlett pears play an important role. Not only do they pack well, but they offer speedy energy to lunch-carrying students. For a new way to "pack-a-pear" try stuffing them with the following variety of tasty fillings.

Stuffed Lunch Box Pears

Core fresh Western Bartlett pears and slice into wedges. A pear slicer is convenient for this. Dip pear slices in lemon juice to prevent browning. Stuff with choice of following mixtures:

Peanut Orange Stuffing

1/3 cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
1 teaspoon chopped nuts

Combine ingredients and spread on cut pear wedges. Put wedges together, whole-pear fashion. Makes enough for 3 to 4 fresh Bartlett pears.

Bacon Cheese Spread

1/3 cup cheese spread
2 tablespoons crisp bacon bits
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives

Combine ingredients, spread each fresh Bartlett pear wedge with about 1 teaspoon mixture. Enough spread for 3 pears.

Black And White Filling

1/3 cup cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
Paprika

Combine softened cream cheese with chopped olives. Spread on cut wedges of fresh Bartlett pears and sprinkle with paprika. Put together, whole-pear style, and wrap well in foil. Filling for 3 pears.

Meaty Made-Ahead Sandwiches Provide Popular Hot Supper or Snack with Ease

Not all the family always eats together nowadays. Often schedules don't jibe and mom becomes a short order cook, much to her dismay. Or if she's the family member that must be somewhere else, it may mean a cold meal for the children and even for dad.

Yet a hot meal is important, especially in chilly weather. A solution for lunch or supper is satisfying made-ahead sandwiches that can be heated all at once or individually upon demand.

Meat in the sandwiches provides not only flavor but the protein, iron and B vitamins that the family needs.

Barbecued Beefburgers

2 pounds ground beef
2 medium-sized onions, chopped
1 medium-sized green pepper, chopped
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
8 hamburger buns

Lightly brown ground beef, onion and green pepper. Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce, mustard, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce and salt to meat mixture, combining thoroughly. Bring to boil, reduce heat and cook over low heat 20 to 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon barbecue mixture on bottom halves of buns, cover with bun tops and serve at once. Or filled buns can be individually wrapped in foil and heated in 300°F. oven. 8 servings.

Ham and Cheese Bunwiches

2 cups cubed ham (¼ to ½-inch cubes)
4 ounces Cheddar cheese, cut in ¼ to ½-inch cubes
½ cup raisins
2 tablespoons pickle relish
¼ cup mayonnaise
8 hamburger buns

Combine meat, cheese, raisins, pickle relish and mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. Place ⅓ cup of mixture on bottom half of each bun and place on cooky sheet. Place top halves of buns on meat mixture. Cover tightly with foil and bake in a 400°F. oven for 10 to 15 minutes, depending on whether sandwiches were stored in refrigerator before being placed in oven. Serve warm. Filled buns can be individually wrapped in foil, stored in refrigerator and baked later. 8 servings.

Cheese Hashburgers

1 can (15½ ounces) corned beef hash
⅓ cup catsup
2 tablespoons pickle relish
¼ teaspoon oregano
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
4 hamburger buns
8 slices Cheddar cheese

Combine corned beef hash, catsup, pickle relish, oregano and mustard. Split buns in half and toast slightly. Spread hash mixture on buns evenly, covering the toasted surface completely. Broil 3 to 5 inches from the heat 6 to 8 minutes or until mixture is heated through. Place a slice of Cheddar cheese on top of meat mixture on each bun and broil 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese is melted. 8 servings.

Sausage Casserole Hints of Intriguing Cuisine

To enjoy a tasty sample of the special flavor of Greece, prepare a dinner dish that hints of this romatic, historic and festive land.

Sausage-Peanut Pilaf

1 pound fresh pork sausage
1 cup finely sliced celery
½ cup chopped onion
1 cup cooked rice
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup chopped green pepper
⅓ cup salted peanuts
6 to 8 stuffed green olives, sliced

Cook sausage until lightly browned. Add celery and onion and cook 3 minutes. Pour off drippings. Add cooked rice, soup and green pepper to sausage mixture. Pour into a 1-quart casserole and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes. Serve topped with sliced olives. 4 servings.

The Whisperliner

Aircraft To Set New Comfort Standards

A new aircraft is coming to America, to be introduced by Eastern Airlines in November of 1971.

It is a remarkable aircraft, but not in the usual ways. It isn't going to be the biggest, nor the fastest. It can't fly the farthest or the highest.

But this aircraft — the Lockheed 1011 — which Eastern calls Whisperliner, does two things of vital importance for the public.

1. It is going to be the most personalized and comfortable aircraft in service. The seats were specially designed for maximum comfort, the ceilings are eight feet high, the two aisles are wide and probably most important of all, there is no longer a middle seat. Every first class or coach passenger is on an aisle, or the next seat over. It is the right size: spacious yet intimate — with all of the warmth of your own living room.

2. It is going to be a good neighbor aircraft. Unlike some of the very large aircraft, the Whisperliner can operate economically and efficiently from medium-size airports as well as span the nation nonstop. Its three high bypass ratio fanjet engines will reduce smoke pollution and noise considerably below that of present aircraft which, in turn, were a major advance over the first generation of jet aircraft.

Starting late in 1971 it will serve many millions of people in this country, while respecting the rights of people on the ground.

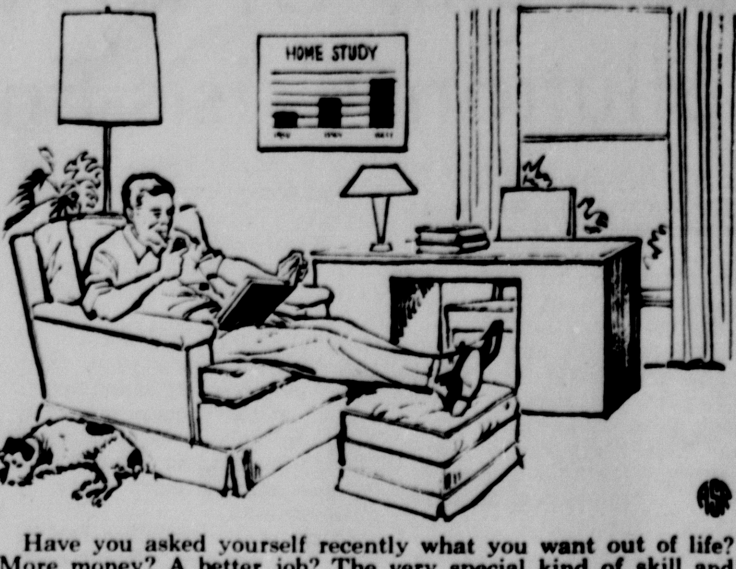
The Whisperliner will accommodate 268 passengers. Food service promises to be the best and most efficient yet, with quick-heating infrared ovens in a lower level. Elevators will bring the fresh, hot food to the passenger level, where flight attendants will distribute it by carts designed to do their job graciously without getting in the way.

A variety of passenger services innovations have been developed especially for the Whisperliner, including soft interior lighting and polarized windows which adjust from full daylight to blackness by the push of a lever. Individual over-head racks will secure wig boxes, gifts and other precious carry-on luggage, while outer garments are safely stored in special clothing compartments, or near at hand in between-seat coat racks. With increasing family travel in mind, Whisperliner will also provide private baby changing facilities.

Eastern has such faith in this aircraft that it plans to receive 50 of them, at $15 million each, and has established the special training and support operations for this vast new fleet.

The Whisperliner—a whole new type of aircraft for the 1970s.

How To Be A Freshman—At Home



Have you asked yourself recently what you want out of life? More money? A better job? The very special kind of skill and knowledge in an area that will make people look up to you?

Surprisingly, you can meet your goals—as nearly five million other alert Americans are learning—through home study. A few hours a week invested at your convenience, at the time and place of your own choosing, can get you that special education, whether you want to learn a new language, become a television serviceman, or become a professional person.

With home study, you travel forward just as fast as you want. Your progress is not held up by other people who may not be as bright or as interested in getting ahead as you are.

When you study at home, you're the boss of your own time, but you're not exactly "on your own". You're backed up by skilled instructors who are experts in the subjects they teach and in working with home study students.

So popular has home study become that there are now more students taking correspondence courses than there are freshmen entering all public and private colleges combined, points out the National Home Study Council, the organization of accredited correspondence schools.

Accreditation for a home study school means that it has a competent faculty, offers up-to-date courses, screens students for admission, and charges reasonable tuition. The Accrediting Commission of the NHSC, the only agency which the U.S. Office of Education has recognized for private home study schools, takes months to examine and certify a candidate school. Personal on-site inspections by educators and business administrators are required.

You can find out exactly what courses are available from accredited schools by writing to the National Home Study Council, Washington, D. C. 20009. Ask for the free NHSC Directory. It may give you some good ideas.

If you ever wonder about the speed of a Texas jackrabbit, it sometimes revs up to 45 miles an hour, darting and dodging among the prairie cacti.

Stay far back from a skunk if you want to be safe. It can hit its target at ranges up to 10 feet and has the capacity of a six-shooter.

The Point Of No Return? Pollution Crisis-Entering

WASHINGTON

"The human race may be in even more trouble than we think," the ecologist said bluntly. "Very possibly, man won't know he has passed the point of no return until it's too late."

Gordon Young agreed. He already had seen some of the menace of that grim warning. As a National Geographic staff writer, he had spent six months traveling the world taking murky measure of how man is befouling his next.

"Unless we stop abusing our vital life-support systems, they will fail," Young writes in the December magazine. "We must maintain them or pay the penalty. The penalty is death."

'Growth With Goodness"

His story, "Pollution, Threat to Man's Only Home," with pictures by staff photographer James P. Blair, leads off a pioneering three-part look at "Our Ecological Crisis."

It is accompanied by a double world map and painting supplement, "The World and How We Abuse It," and the haunting photographic report of "The Fragile Beauty All About Us" by Harry S.C. Yen, also a National Geographic Staff member and prize-winning nature phtographer. winning nature photographer.

"One of our basic errors," said ecologist Lamont Cole, "is that we always equate growth with goodness." Dr. Cole, of Cornell University, was making the same point repeated by almost every ecologist Young interviewed.

"We have to stop growth somewhere," Dr. Cole added. "And, if we don't stop the population explosion, there's very little chance of solving our other problems. It's the key to the whole thing."

Everywhere Young found evidence of the discards from the world's ever - growing population.

Cans, Bottles, TV Sets

He writes: "Last year Americans threw away 50 billion empty cans, 30 billion glass containers, 4 million tons of plastics, and more than a million television sets."

Americans, he learned, produce a daily average of six pounds of waste per person, gorging landfill dumps and fueling incinerators that belch more smoke.

Nine million cars are disposed of each year. Many are abandoned -- including 150 on the streets of New York City every day.

Man dumps from three to ten million tons of oil into the world's oceans every year.

In Tokyo Young found traffic policemen refreshing themselves from oxygen tanks. In the industrial Ruhr of Germany he saw how the corrosive air from heavy industry etched and turned brown a test square of shiny steel in only two months. In Milan, Washington, and Paris he saw statues eaten away by airborne acid.

Much of the pollution can be outlawed, but not without cost. Young pointed out the dilemma facing lawmakers across the country:

"If a plant has polluted the air for fifty years, and is operating on a close budget--can we, in good conscience, make demands that will drive it into bankruptcy? On the other hand, can we afford to risk our health by continuing to breathe the smoke?"

Young's article catalogs some of the changes man brings to his world in the name of improvements, which often backfire into pollution problems.

Manure a Menace

Down on the farm, cattle have been turned out of fields traditionally revitalized by natural fertilization and have been penned into feeder lots where manure becomes a major disposal and pollution problem. Meanwhile, fields suffer from lack of organic fertilizer.

Some insecticides have prevented epidemics and assured greater health and bigger crop yields. At the same time, they may not only wipe out certain endangered species of animals, but, by invading the food chain, threaten man as well.

Mercury, valuable in saving stored grain from spoiling fungus, menaces man through his food. Lead, a long-used additive in gasoline, is another toxic appearing increasingly in human bones.

Nuclear power plants may be efficient generators on the one hand and, on the other, produce thermal pollution--making water hotter than marine life can tolerate in rivers needed to cool the reactors.

Strip mining for coal produces needed fuel efficiently, but leaves behind canyons of desolation highly vulnerable to erosion, and where little will grow for many years.

Phosphates, one of the main ingredients that do the job in chemical fertilizers and in laundry and dishwashing detergents, also are major dangers to the life of lakes.

Phosphates, carried to lakes in sewage, overstimulate plant growth, especially algae, which then die, sink to the lake bottom and decompose. The process robs the water of oxygen.

Much of the water in Lake Erie already is without the oxygen needed to sustain fish and other marine life.

Pollution Blankets All

The burning of fuel by jet aircraft leaves vast quantities of water vapor in the air, increasing the cloud cover and further cutting the amount of the sun's energy that reaches Earth. Supersonic transports may increase the blanketing effect in the stratosphere where drifing clouds dissipate more slowly.

Pollution fighters have won victories that ecologists say must only be the beginning of what they emphasize is man's fight for survival.

Los Angeles, "Smog City, U.S.A.", is at least holding its own, thanks to the Nation's toughest regulations against air pollution.

A communitywide effort produced a new sewage disposal operation that has saved Seattle's Lake Washington from the kind of death that threatens Lake Erie.

Garbage and rubbish is incinerated without giving off smoke particles while generating light and heat for a community of 40,000 in West Germany.

More factory wastes are being recycled or reused. Old newspapers reprocessed into new front pages sometimes whimsically inform readers of the antipollution effort with the headline: "You've read this paper before."

Rockdale Airman Receives Sentence

Airman William T. Pearson, 20, of Rockdale, was found guilty of rape Dec. 8 by a seven-man military jury at the Corpus Christi naval air station.

He was sentenced to 18 months confinement and a bad conduct discharge. Results of the general court-martial are subject to review by higher authority.

Pearson was charged with raping a 20-year-old WAVE at Padre Island National Seashore last July.

Badgers, Eagles Named On 10-B All-District List

Two Buckholts Badgers and three Milano Eagles are named to All-District teams in District 10 B six-man football, and Badger Gordon Haisler was selected to play in the six-man All-Star game set for next July.

Honorable mentions also went to Badgers and Eagles.

Named to All-District offense are Richard Kudlacek, senior at Buckholts High, and Johnny Hurt, senior at Milano High.

Milano senior Gary Shaw and junior Del Davis, and Gordon Haisler of Buckholts were named on defense.

Honorable mentions on the offensive lineup went to Buckholts freshman Larry Orsag; and senior Gary Shaw and sophomore Michael Williams of Milano.

Defense honorable mention went to James Hartley, senior at Milano.

District 10 B seniors selected to play in the six-man All-Star game to be held in Levelland in July, 1971 are Willie Leos and Charles Vandiver, both of Oglesby, Kenneth Sayer of Jarrell, and Haisler.

Food Up; Income Up More

Last year consumers spent $511 per person for all food, a 34 per cent increase over the 1957-59 average. Personal income, however, for the same period rose 68 per cent, from $1,846 to $3,098. Thus, people who spent 20.6 per cent of disposable income on foods during '57-'59 period spent only 16.5 per cent in 1969, a decrease of over 4% for food.

Badgerettes Win Bartlett Tourney

On December 3, 4, 5 the Buckholts Badgers and Badgerettes participated in the Bartlett Invitational Tournament along with a few other schools in the area.

They were Salado boys, Thrall girls, Holland, Jarrell, Thorndale, Leander, and the hosts, Bartlett.

On Thursday, the girls played the Granger Lions. Martha Vaculin led the Badgerettes to a 57-36 victory by scoring 25 points. High pointer for Granger was Regina White with 14 points.

On Friday morning, the boys traveled to Bartlett to meet a fired up Thorndale team who defeated the Badgers 54-26. Gordon Haisler paced the Badgers with a total of 21 points. Calvin had 22 points to lead the Bulldogs to their victory.

Then on Saturday morning, the boys and girls started to Bartlett for the elimination games.

The boys played first defeating Jarrell in a close game by a score of 29-26. Larry Orsag led the Badgers to a victory by scoring 14 points. David Garcia had 11 points to lead the Cougar scoring.

This win placed the Badgers in the Consolation game.

The Badgerettes followed the boys playing the Leander girls in a rough but hard won battle.

Becky Beckhusen paced the Badgerettes to the 31-25 victory over Leander by scoring 15 points. High pointer for into the finals playing against the Bartlett Lassies.

The boys played against a riled up Lion team. The result was a win for Granger over the Badgers 61-36. Gordon Haisler led the Badgers by throwing in 24 points. Fails led the Lions with 20 points.

In the finals, the Badgerettes played impressive basketball and came out on top with the championship by defeating the Bartlett Lassies 49-38.

Martha Vaculin led the way for the Badgerettes by scoring 20 points. Sarah Ware and Debra Janke tied for high point honors with 15 points a piece.

Consolation awards went to the Jarrell girls and Granger boys. Second place awards went to the Bartlett girls and Bartlett boys.

First place awards went to the Buckholts girls and Thorndale boys.

Martha Vaculin and Jo Ann Beckhusen were placed on the All-Tournament team.

Food gets a bigger share of the total budget in families that have teenage appetites to satisfy.
